Railroads Fight Tax Rates, City Attacks Crossing Heights, Delays

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
Court proceedings to compel railroads in Granite City to reconstruct all present grade crossings to "street level" were authorized by the city council Monday night.

The action came in response to notices that five major rail lines have filed tax objections in circuit court at Edwardsville against certain city fund levies for the 1969 tax year for which taxes were collected last summer. The objections involve many thousands of dollars in city tax money. The amount was not disclosed.

Acting on a motion by Alderman Walter Nomm of the Fifth

Ward, the council unanimously authorized City Attorney Leon Scroggins to "prepare and file" whatever action is necessary—whether it be in circuit court or before the Illinois Commerce Commission—to force the railroads to rebuild their present grade crossings at street level, a procedure which Nomm admitted would "cost millions of dollars."

The council, however, took no action to oppose the tax objections and voted merely to place the tax objection notices from the office of County Clerk Eulaia Hotz "on file." A series of similar tax objections filed by the railroads that eventually were settled in 1967 after two years of court hearings cost the taxing districts involved approximately $1.5 million.

Criticism Crossings
The tax objection notices presented to the council in a series of communications for each tax objection case brought a general criticism of the railroads from council members who pointed out the city has made repeated unsuccessful overtures to the railroads to obtain repair of deteriorated crossings and to do something about long delays by freight trains at the city's major railroad crossings.

The tax objections included: Burlington, Northern, Inc., successor to the assignees of Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, objections to 1969 taxes for city funds for Fire Protection, Water Hydrant Rental, Auditing, Street Lighting and Sewer Maintenance.

Norfolk & Western Railroad, objections to 1969 taxes for Street Lighting, Water Hydrant Rental, Sewer Maintenance and Interest and Judgments funds.

Terminal Railroad Association, objections to 1969 taxes for all city fund levies except the special account for Bonds and Interest.

Illinois Terminal Railroad, objections to 1969 taxes for General Fund, Street Lighting, Street and Bridge, Water Fund, Sewer Maintenance and Interest and Judgments.

Gulf, Mobile & Ohio Railroad, General Fund, Street and Bridge, Street Lighting, Water, Sewer Maintenance and Interest and Judgments.

Placed in Escrow
In filing tax objections, taxpayers must pay at least 75% of the tax bill, but the tax funds are placed in escrow with the county treasurer until the cases are settled in court. The extensive series of railroad tax objections settled in 1967 involved taxes placed in escrow for the years 1959 through 1963, monies to the taxing agencies against whom the objections were directed.

As City Clerk Robert Stevens completed reading the tax objection notices, Alderman Walter Nomm jumped to his feet and told the council:

"If you will go down that list, you will find the biggest violators we have are right there. I move these objections be placed on file." A moment later, Nomm changed the motion that the city "object to any change in the railroad assessments." He revised the motion again, calling upon the city attorney to file proceedings against the railroads "to force them to improve their crossings to street grade level."

Alderman Paul Schuler pointed out that City Attorney Leon Scroggins "was instructed to do the same thing before." He asked Scroggins if he had looked into the law as to what could be done. Scroggins replied that the city of Belleville recently has won considerable concessions in steps against the railroads and that he was checking with Belleville.

Nomm took the floor to say that "we should follow this through regardless of what it takes."

Alderman Steve Basarich remarked: "Let's hit 'em with all we have."

Alderman Claude Green suggested that as long as something was being done, action should be taken about long delays at the railroad crossings. He complained that long delays by freight trains still are a major problem.

Alderman Charles Moerlien, who retired a month ago after 49 years as a railroad freight engineer, told the council: "It's a matter of the law. The railroad attorneys told us that in cases of long delays, we could move the train by three car lengths and then we had another ten minutes, then we could move it again."

The motion authorizing Scroggins to take action was approved unanimously.

Loman Chairman of Anniversary Festival

Barry Loman was appointed Tuesday night as general chairman of the Granite City anniversary celebration of 1971. The occasion will mark the 75th anniversary of the city and 50th anniversary of the park district and the Sisters of Divine Providence operation of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Loman, vice-president of the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, resides at 56 Jandys Lane. He is vice-president of the park district and a past park president.

His appointment was announced at the February meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board, held at the Rosebowl restaurant. The Chamber has been asked by the governmental agencies to plan the summer festival.

Loman appointed three honorary chairmen who also will play active roles in the celebration. They are Mayor Donald Partney; Henry R. Gabriel, an architect, who presides over the park board; and Albert H. Froemling, Chamber president and president of the Madison County Federal Savings & Loan Association.

In other business, the Chamber was presented a certificate designating it as an associate office of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

The presentation to President Froemling was made by Lowell Burns, chief of the Domestic Trade Section, St. Louis Field Office, Department of Commerce.

G. H. Stenberg Sr., chairman of the You-Nited for Action meeting to be held March 6, reviewed the preparations currently being made.

Plans were made for Chamber members to attend a state legislative luncheon at noon Feb. 16 in Springfield.

The Chamber members voted to nominate Ted Ellerman, assistant administrator of St. Elizabeth Hospital, for Yajoo service award judging.

Favor GCIS Auditorium
The board went on record as favoring use of Granite City

High School auditorium fire insurance proceeds to again construct an auditorium.

Directors said they had noted some public sentiment for diverting the funds to classroom construction, but that they disagree with such diversion. The school board has not yet formally considered the subject.

Bill H. Terrell was commended on being selected as a "general agent of the nation" for his life insurance sales, and Edward H. Reiske was praised for the effectiveness of his service as public relations representative on the Chamber staff.

Reiske, a retired Case Co. tractor sales official, is ending his work with the Chamber to accept a position with the R. Dron Electrical Co. The Chamber board viewed and heard a film program designed for new Chamber members, entitled "U.

City May Cut Proposed Johnson Road Width from 60 to 50 Feet

A revision of plans for improvement of Johnson Road from Franklin Avenue to Pontoon Road—a $250,000 street improvement project—may be financed entirely from motor fuel tax funds—was suggested by city council members Monday night as a possible solution to a knotty right-of-way problem that has been holding up the project for several months.

The revision would involve a reduction in the maximum right-of-way requirements from 60 feet to 50 feet in that section of the project from Lindell Boulevard to Pontoon Road in which several homeowners have refused to donate easements that would take more than 14 feet from their front yard and bring the roadway improvement too close to their homes.

The Johnson Road project has been the No. 1 priority street improvement on the city's motor fuel tax list for the past three years and now has full approval of the Illinois Division of Highways for construction plans and MFT financing, which means the roadway would be built at no cost of city tax funds.

Kenneth Kleberger, city consulting engineer, said the project has advanced to the stage that bids for construction may be called as soon as all right-of-way problems are resolved.

Easements Too Deep
These include the refusal of several residents to donate easements, because present plans bite too deeply into the front roadway line of their property. The city has refused to pay for any easements or right-of-way on grounds the improvement is a great advantage to residents along Johnson Road and will result in a substantial increase in the value of property along the improved roadway.

Two months ago city officials said the project was being delayed by a small group of property owners who were requiring payment for a small easement of about four feet along their front property lines, necessary to the construction of sidewalks.

Cab Driver Shot to Death; Body is Found in Venice

The ice-covered body of a St. Louis taxi driver was found on the lawn in front of the New Salem Baptist Church, 208 Bremen Avenue, Venice, after the ice-covered body of Arthur Brown, a St. Louis cab driver, was removed yesterday morning. Brown had been shot twice in the neck.

He went on duty at 6 p.m. Tuesday, according to officials of the taxi company.

His cab was found at 11:45 a.m. yesterday in the 4900 block of San Francisco Ave. in North St. Louis. Police reported there were blood stains in the front seat and in the cab trunk.

Brown was the second Marcella driver killed since Jan. 19. A sal spreading crew found for the Marcella Cab Co., St. Louis.

Police said the victim was a taxi driver for only two weeks for the Marcella Cab Co., St. Louis.

was fired, Clarence W. Klassen, director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, said yesterday at Springfield. "He retired," Gov. Ogilvie had announced. In any case, the new director is William L. Blaser, former IEPA management consultant.

Klassen related that the governor "and I had a discussion last week and he told me I did not fit into his plans; upon learning of the plans, I was the first to agree I did not."

Klassen wished Blaser well but said Blaser and John Daly, an Ogilvie aide, had talked earlier not to hire "the 28 persons I felt would be needed to implement the book issue," a $20 million anti-pollution program approved by voters in November. "It was told it would not be implemented until the next fiscal year," Klassen added.

GC Does Have 40,000 People, Census Takers Say

A total of 4,354 "lost" Granite City residents have been found by the U. S. Census Bureau and reported in final official census figures at Washington—giving Granite City a total 1970 population of 40,440.

The new figure is a gain of 367 over the 1960 census and an increase of 4,354 over a 36,086 population figure announced previously in unofficial census tallies by regional census bureaus.

The final census figures announced at Washington bear out complaints by Mayor Donald Partney who maintained since the unofficial figure of 36,086 was announced, that "something was wrong" with the unofficial tally.

City Has Half Million in Street Projects Readied

Nearly a half-million dollars worth of street improvements in Granite City have been approved as motor fuel tax projects by the Illinois Division of Highways and are near the bidding stage.

Final approval of two of the projects — involving total estimated cost of approximately $125,000 — was given the city council Monday night in notices as the result of adoption a week ago of motor fuel tax appropriations requiring the state highway department.

These include plans for improvement of a block of Marshall Avenue — about 800 feet — from Leonard Street to St. Clair Avenue for which the council has approved a total motor fuel tax appropriation of $33,500, and for the improvement of Harding Street from FA Route 151 to Jefferson Street for which an appropriation of $85,000 has been approved.

Plans and MFT appropriations totaling $80,000 previously approved for improvement of Roosevelt Avenue from Rock Road to FA Route 151.

These projects call for construction of new roadways with curb and guttering at 34 foot widths, complete with drainage facilities.

Largest of the street projects is the Johnson Road widening and resurfacing from Franklin Avenue to Pontoon Road which is expected to cost about $250,000—about half of the cost of all the pending improvements.

This project has been approved by the state highway department and will be held up pending a meeting held last week with Park District officials in which Kleberger sought a clarification of any plans the Park District might have concerning parking facilities on the park side of the street, which now provides diagonal parking for persons attending park functions.

Traffic Death Ratio Jumps in January

The number of traffic deaths in the Quad-City area increased substantially in January over those in December and January of last year, although the total number of accidents and injuries due to traffic accidents decreased.

Six persons were killed in traffic crashes last month, compared with one each in January and December, 1970. The figure is the highest for any month in the Quad-Cities since October 1969, when eight persons lost their lives.

In 1970, 22 persons died in traffic mishaps here, an average of less than two each month.

A total of 167 accidents was reported in January with 71 persons injured in collisions. A year earlier 109 injuries in 262 traffic accidents were recorded, and in December 1970, 182 accidents with 115 injuries occurred.

The January accident total is the lowest since October 1969, and was tied in August 1970. The number of injury accidents last month was the lowest since Oct. 1968, when 64 were recorded.

Willow Walk Cats Take Top Trophies, Honors

Mrs. David Taylor of the Willow Walk Cattery in Mitchell and Mrs. Jenny Pulliam, who assists her at the cattery, participated in the 30th annual "Great St. Louis Cat Show," which concluded earlier this week at St. Charles, Mo. This year's show attracted the largest attendance in its three-decade history.

Featured in the 1971 show, in addition to the judging of entrants, were two special projects sponsored by the local women. One—a display by the Humane Society of Homeless Kittens—offered several tiny animals for adoption, with the supply quickly exhausted, Mrs. Taylor said.

The second program focused on an appeal to eliminate the slaughter of baby seals in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Petitions were circulated and pleas for donations to help stamp out the practice brought gratifying results, the local cattery owner advised.

In the registered cat class competition, Mrs. Taylor's Grand Champion Charlie Brown of Willow Walk, a white Persian male, won first place honors and Best of Color Opposite Sex, in all four shows.

Willow Walk Smudge, a cameo torte Persian female, also placed first and Best of Color Opposite Sex in all four shows and William Walk Katie, a black Persian female, shared honors for second place with another black smoke Persian female bred at Willow Walk, Dusty Girl, owned by Melissa McConkey of Collinsville.

Also in the registered cats class, Mrs. Pulliam's entries, Champion Beauty of Willow Walk, a blue smoke Persian female, won first and Best of Color Opposite Sex in four shows, and Best Champion and Best of Breed in two shows. Her Champion Willow Walk Fishdaisy, a white Persian female, won first place honors and Best of Color Opposite Sex, also in all four shows.

In the Premier Class, a chocolate point Siamese male, Hershey Cat, bred at the local cattery and owned by Gerald Smith of St. Joan, Mo., placed first and Best of Color in all four shows and won two trophies — Best Chocolate Point Neuter and Best Descendant of Willow Walk.

Receives Judges Award
The one-ring household pet class attracted most attention from spectators, Mrs. Taylor reported. David Pulliam's grey and white shorthaired male kit, "Nom," was selected Best of Color in its class and received a "Judges Award." A red shorthaired female, "Little Red," owned by Mrs. Pulliam, won Best of Color and a large trophy for Best of Household Pets among 36 entries.

Another short-haired red cat, "Limpy," a tabby male owned by Kathy Gavin, 284 Fortune Drive, was a ward of second place trophy in the household pet division.

GC Park District Election Filing To End Feb. 15

Henry Gabriel, president of the Granite City Park District Board, and Barry Loman, vice-president, whose board terms expire this year, have filed petitions as candidates for re-election in the Park District election April 20.

Under a new election schedule approved by ordinance which changes the date of the Granite City Park district election from the first Tuesday of April to the third Tuesday of April, the filing period for park board candidates will expire Monday, Feb. 15.

Gabriel, president of the Gabriel & Dulgeroff architectural firm, is completing a two-year appointive term. Loman, vice president of Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, is ending a six-year elective term.

The filing period for the Park district election changed in accordance with new dates specified in the election ordinance adopted by the Park Board. Under the previous election code applied to the Granite City Park Board election, this year's election would have been held on April 6, the same date as the Granite City municipal election.

In the Venice Park district election April 6, two incumbent candidates will be re-elected without opposition. They are Clifford Caver, 683 Lincoln St., and Willie A. Treat, 1000 Logan St., whose board terms expire this year. The filing period for that election expired Monday with only two incumbents filing.

Venice did not change the date of its election this year and election arrangements will continue under the previous schedule.

Canadian Fishing Trip Topic of Rotary Club

A motion picture shown at Tuesday's weekly Granite City Rotary luncheon traced a July 1970 fishing trip to a remote lake in Canada by Bill H. Terrell, a Granite City insurance executive, his sons Greg and Assistant School Supt. Frank Kraus and his son, Doug.

The group drove through Minnesota to Ontario, Canada, and then reached the isolated fishing and camping site by air plane. The film was narrated by Terrell, who was introduced by Gene Briggs, program chairman.

William Thoele was named chairman and Glenn Abernethy co-chairman of the club's "on to Edwardsville" committee for the April 16-18 annual district Rotary convention.

President John Polson presided and plans were completed for the club's Valentine party Feb. 13 at the Media Club. William Mohl and Earl Dezaure were honored on their birthdays.

Vandals Damage Auto

Vandals pulled off ignition wires, broke the rear and side windows and bent the wiper blade assemblies on an auto owned by Union Electric Co. while it was parked at the rear of Granite City High School, it was reported at 10:05 p.m. Tuesday.

Families Grateful For Help After Fire

Two families who lost all their belongings in a fire of a four apartment frame house at 2120 Delmar Ave., Jan. 29, reported that they have received considerable help from Quad City residents and the third family living in the building appealed for help this week.

Mrs. and Mrs. Donald Gray and their three children and Mrs. Beatrice Lindsey and her five children have received food and clothing from the Salvation Army, area churches and local residents since they issued an appeal for help after the fire.

The Grays now reside at Apartment D, 1939 Edison Ave. and are looking for a five room apartment or house to rent. Additional donations will be welcomed at their new address.

The Lindsey family will be taken at the home of Mrs. Lindsey's sister, Mrs. Willis Derksen, 222 Ohio Ave. The third family who were victims of that blaze, Mrs. Donna Boaz and her four daughters, issued an appeal for help for help.

Mrs. Boaz said that they lost furniture valued at nearly $3,000 and their possessions in the fire. Furniture, clothing and food are needed, she said.

Her daughters are Rebecca, 10, Karen, 6, Donita, 5, and Shelley, 4. The family was preparing for Shelley's birthday party when the blaze started and all of her presents were lost.

The family is residing with Mrs. Boaz mother, Mrs. Edith Childerson, 1908 Thirteenth St., Highland, Ill.

Deadline for Award Nominees is Feb. 12

Deadline for nomination of candidates for the Granite City Jaycees' "Distinguished Service" and the "Outstanding Young Educator Award" will be Friday, Feb. 12. Ron Benick, district chairman, announced today.

Nominations should be mailed to the Granite City Jaycees, Box 3, Granite City, Ill. All candidates' names and addresses need be entered. Benick noted, explaining that nominees will be contacted and asked to prepare and submit their own judging forms.

Names of young men, between the ages of 21 and 35 years, to be considered for DSA title and those of young men or women to be judged for the OYE Award may be contributed by individuals, organizations or institutions.

Nominees need not be a member of the Jaycees or the organization submitting the candidate's name, Benick stressed.

The award winners will be announced at the annual "DSA-OYE Awards Banquet," set for Thursday, Feb. 18, at the Rose Bowl restaurant. The event will be open to the public and tickets, costing $5 per person, are now available from any Jaycee member.

The DSA Award is the highest honor the local Jaycees confer annually upon an outstanding young man who resides or works in the Quad-City area.

Nameoki Election Battle Looms For Two Offices

Opposition for the offices of Nameoki township supervisor and highway commissioner will constitute the only major township election in the Quad-City area — with three candidates running for each of the two offices.

Incumbent Supervisor Harry Briggs filed petitions of candidacy shortly before expiration of the filing period Monday. Petitions for the supervisor's race also were filed Monday by Edgar Patrick, Nameoki township collector, Town Clerk Louis Whitsell filed nominating petitions earlier.

Charles Hanks, now township commissioner, did not file as a candidate for re-election. The three highway commissioners are Fred Reiser, Albert E. Bell and Robert Strackeljah, a former town board member.

Whitsell and Bell are running on the same ticket, as are Briggs and Strackeljah. Reiser and Reiser filed as independent candidates.

The township elections will be held April 6, but in most instances only the highway commissioners are to be elected. Due to a ruling by the Illinois attorney general that all incumbent assistant supervisors, who normally would have run, are to remain in office as holdover officials until redistricting becomes effective in 1971.

Because of this ruling there will be no township elections in Granite City township. Normally three assistant supervisors would have been on the ballot. The supervisor does not run this year and Granite City does not elect a highway commissioner. Therefore the election is eliminated.

In Venice township the only candidate to file is Frank Klitch, incumbent highway commissioner who is seeking reelection. He will be returned to office without opposition.

The withdrawal deadline is Saturday, and Whitsell said he will open the township office until noon Saturday for the convenience of anyone who may wish to withdraw.

Brown's wallet about 4 a.m. yesterday on the McKinley Bridge and gave it to Venice police. It contained no money, police said. When the body was found a card which Brown had signed to release his taxi for duty was found about 25 feet away. From the card and the wallet, police made a tentative identification of the body, but it was late afternoon before a positive identification was made by an uncle.

Venice police and the homicide division of the St. Louis Police Department began a joint investigation, but there are no suspects at this time, according to Venice Police Chief Ralph D. Brawley.

Madison County Deputy Coroner Ed Werner said Brown had been shot in the right side of his neck two times with a small caliber pistol, "probably a .22 or 25 caliber," he said. Werner pronounced Brown dead at the scene shortly after police found the body. An autopsy yesterday afternoon showed the bullets severed his spine, Werner said.

A grim shadow of where Brown's body laid during the night was left in the ice on the church lawn, causing police to

The southbound autos of Grace R. Hicks, 2022 Missouri Ave., and Anthony Anselmo, 1711 Elizabeth St., Madison, collided at 10:35 p.m. yesterday on Madison Avenue near Fourth Street in Madison.

Speculate that the body had been thrown there before the freezing rain began about 2 a.m. Wednesday.

Brown was heard from about 12:15 a.m. when he received a call to pick up a passenger in North St. Louis, according to Homicide Detective Herbert Riley.

Police believe Brown may have been shot in St. Louis, placed in the trunk of the cab and brought to Illinois. They theorized it also was possible that he could have been killed in Illinois or on the bridge where his wallet was found.

Toll collectors on the bridge during the night said that several Marcella taxis crossed the bridge between midnight and 4 a.m.

Marcella taxi drivers have been the victims of numerous robberies since driver Floyd Jordan was killed Jan. 19. Many of them were locked in the trunk of their cabs when found, police said.

Brown leaves his widow and two children. Funeral arrangements are pending in St. Louis.

New Offer Proposed In Utility Walkout

Members of Operating Engineers Local 148 are being advised today by union leaders the details of a "stipulation of understanding" for ending the 11-week-old strike against Union Electric Co., a federal mediator reported last evening.

Local 148 members may vote on the agreement this weekend. It is the fourth time a proposal to end the walkout has been offered for union ratification since the strike began Nov. 20. Paul E. Bowers, regional director of the Federal Mediation Service, and Commissioners Robert Mize and Bernie O'Keefe, in a statement issued last night, said:

"The union committee of Local 148, Operating Engineers, will report back to the membership on a stipulation of understanding reached between the parties in the federal mediation offices this date to terminate the strike.

"The union will notify the news media as to the time and place of meeting as soon as possible. No other details will be released."

The agreement was reached at a negotiating session that began at 10 a.m. and concluded at 8 p.m. Wednesday. The strike started Nov. 20 over a work assignment grievance at the Portage des Sioux plant and spread to eight other Union Electric power facilities in Missouri, Iowa and Illinois, including the Venice and Cahokia plants.

Picket lines of the 1,300 striking Local 148 members are being honored by about 2,500 other union members employed by the utility firms.

Disciplinary action against three employees at the Cahokia plant has been the main obstacle to ending the walkout. Supervisory personnel is operating the power plants during the strike.

The bid was accepted over those of three other dealers. They were: Granite City Dodge, $2,500; Mathews Chevrolet Co., $2,375; and Brewer Motor Co., $2,250.

Engineers Telling Other Firms They Have Contract for Sewage Treatment Project

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Criticism by Mayor Donald Partney of the city's consulting engineering firm regarding its effort to secure a contract for engineering work on a proposed secondary sewage treatment plant and a system of interceptor sewers touched off a new controversy Monday night between the mayor and Kenneth Kleberger, president of Research Planning & Design Associates, Inc.

The mayor's charges brought a rebuttal from Kleberger, who was granted the floor by a vote of city council members.

Kleberger denied there was anything unethical in his sending letters to a number of other engineering firms who also are seeking the treatment plant engineering work, in which he told them that his firm "has a valid contract for all engineering and/or architectural work contemplated by the community."

Six Firms Interested
Despite Kleberger's claim that his company alone can handle the secondary treatment planning, the council's Planning Committee has received proposals from six engineering firms, including Research Planning, and plans to study all six.

Alderman Steve Basarich, chairman of the committee—which is handling preparations for the treatment project—expects to call a meeting of the committee soon.

At the meeting, the committee members will discuss selection of an engineering firm to handle architectural, engineering and planning for the proposed treatment plant and interceptor sewers. The state has ordered the city to complete the project by Dec. 31, 1973.

The disagreement aired Monday night developed when a letter written by the mayor and addressed to the council, announced that he would not sign a new contract between the city and Kleberger's firm to handle engineering on motor fuel tax (street) projects during 1973.

Attached to the mayor's letter was a copy of a letter sent by Kleberger under the date of Jan. 19 to a Granite City engineering firm.

Returns Agreement Unsigned
In his letter to the council, Partney said:

"I find it necessary to return the motor fuel tax agreement with Research, Planning & Design Associates, Inc. to the council for their signature. I cannot sign an agreement with a firm that uses such (tactics) as those used by this firm in a letter, copy enclosed, to all engineering firms that were to be interviewed for our proposed secondary sewage treatment plant."

The copy of Kleberger's letter to the Granite City firm said: "It has come to my attention that your firm has been contacted by the mayor of Granite City regarding an engineering proposal for the design and construction of secondary treatment facilities for that community."

"Our firm, being city consulting engineer for Granite City, has a valid contract for any and all engineering and/or architectural work contemplated for the community."

"Although the mayor does not realize the professional ethics involved and the ensuing legal complications, this contract, as consulting engineer, is recognized by the entire city council and city legal staff. I am sure you will take the appropriate action now that you have been apprised of the present situation."

As City Clerk Robert Stevens completed the reading of the mayor's letter, Alderman Thomas Boker asked that the Kleberger letter also be read. Stevens did so.

Committee Not Contacted
As that reading was completed, Alderman Basarich told the council:

"I have not been contacted by anyone on this. We (the committee) have not interviewed anyone individually."

Alderman Paul Rutledge asked City Attorney Leon Scroggins if he interpreted Kleberger's contract (as consulting engineer) as a part "that ties us down" to performing the work through Kleberger's firm.

Scroggins replied that he was of the opinion the city council could award the treatment plant contract to an engineer "of its own choice."

Mayor Partney asked the council what it wanted to do with his letter. Basarich moved that it be received and filed. The motion was given a second by Alderman Everett Morlen, clearing the way for more discussion.

"Do you mean that if I just file this, it puts us back to where we were, without a motor fuel tax engineer or a consulting engineer?" Boker asked.

"That's about the size of it," the mayor replied.

Alderman Sam Whitmer turned to Kleberger and referred to another letter written to another engineer in another instance and told Kleberger, "That was a personal matter and was up to you. But this letter (the one directed to engineers applying for the treatment plant contract) is an insult to the council and an insult to me."

Alderman Sam Whitmer replied: "Then this means we have no motor fuel tax engineer."

"You would have had a regular city engineer if the council hadn't opposed it," said Partney. "I would have appointed a city engineer two years ago but the council decided to take the $3,500 appropriation for his salary out of the budget. There hasn't been any money for an engineer on a regular basis since."

Whitmer asked the mayor: "What happens to all these motor fuel tax jobs that we are just about ready to start? Do they go by the wayside because we don't have an engineer to handle them?"

The mayor said he did not know. He referred to a situation several years ago in which David Johnston was dismissed as city engineer. "The projects that were pending went right ahead," the mayor said.

At that point, Alderman Clyde Boyd said he believed that Kleberger, who attends every council session and gives counsel on engineering problems, should be given the opportunity to "tell his side of this story." Boyd moved that Kleberger be given the floor to speak and the motion was approved unanimously.

In response, Kleberger said that "what the mayor refers to as 'unethical' activity is the ethical thing to do in our profession. It's just the other way around."

"The ethics of our profession require us to notify other engineers of the fact that we have a contract for engineering work in a community in which other engineers might be called upon to bid for work or submit contract proposals."

"The letters I wrote notified the other engineers who had been asked to submit offers for the sewage treatment plant work that Research Planning & Design already has a contract with the city and that they would be violating their ethics to continue efforts to take the work."

"I was duty bound to let them know we have a contract as consulting engineers for Granite City."

Previous Episode
Partney made reference to Kleberger's efforts several years ago to obtain a city contract on previous sewer engineering work.

"I can explain that, but I didn't think anyone would want it brought into the open," Kleberger replied.

"We can hear it all," the mayor said.

"All right then," Kleberger replied: "I'll tell it as it happened."

He said that several years ago when a contract was open on sewer work, engineers were being interviewed.

Kleberger said he received a call from a community member. He named an alderman who no longer is a member of the council.

"He asked to meet me for lunch. I don't even remember who the other members of the committee were. They don't enter into it, anyway, because on any and all projects controlled by the chairman meet me."

"He told me that he would recommend the hiring of an engineer who would do things as he wanted. I refused to have anything to do with such an arrangement. I was told by another engineer that he had the same proposal and turned it down. I explain this to show that we follow our ethics and have no intention of doing anything unethical."

Kleberger told the council that the city contract with Research Planning & Design Associates provides that his firm "be used on all projects controlled by the chairman."

The move by the mayor, in refusing to sign the agreement with Kleberger's firm for renewal of the contract for consulting engineering services on motor fuel tax projects is a continuation of a long-standing political feud between the mayor and the council over the mayor's authority to appoint certain city officers, including the chief of police and the fire chief.

The question is still involved in a circuit court proceeding in which a ruling is expected soon.

Mayor Partney, due to a lack of funds which the council refuses to budget for the purpose, has been unable to appoint a regular full-time city engineer.

Street, Non-Street Contracts
Instead the council has used the services of Research Planning & Design Associates under contracts which the aldermen have approved. The contract in Monday night's dispute involves engineering services for motor fuel tax projects which involves engineering work on street improvements that can be financed with state MFT money.

Under another contract, however, Kleberger's firm provides consulting services on other projects, such as sewer repairs, non-MFT street work or similar projects. That contract was approved last August and expires next Aug. 31, according to Kleberger.

Partney has refused all along to recognize council authority to negotiate the contract for general consulting services (non-MFT work) and maintains the city does not have a city consulting engineer as such—acts.

only a city MFT consulting engineer.

The situation grew out of the city's plan to build a secondary sewage treatment plant and a system of interceptor sewers that may cost about $7.5 million. It is estimated that about 80% of the cost can be financed with state and federal funds. Efforts are under way to obtain federal funds for planning and preliminary engineering work.

Cougar Grapplers Hand First Loss to MacMurray by 22-12

Cougar Larry Kristoff's Southern Illinois University-Southwestern wrestling team handed the MacMurray College Highlanders their first loss in 16 matches at Jacksonville, Tuesday. The Cougars won 22-12. It was their seventh victory in nine matches.

The Cougars got off to a good start by winning their first three matches. Ed O'Brien defeated Kurt Keadle (5-3) in the 118-pound event, Jan Gitcho of Granite City defeated Ken Gluck (11-1) in the 128-pound division, and Phil Janetta pinned John Water in the 134-pound event.

In the next four matches, SIU split, 2-2, as Bob Guerri lost to MacMurray's Kent Youngren on a decision at the 142-pound weight. Mike Taylor, the Cougars' 150-pound wrestler, pinned George Murray, and Tim Evans of SIU-SW defeated Joe Kenney in the 158-pound event, while Kristoff's 167-pound wrestler, Nick Brooks, lost to MacMurray's John Maple (5-0).

Perry Allison, SIU-SW, defeated MacMurray's Joe Willet (7-5) in the 177-pound division for the final points scored by the Cougars.

MacMurray won the final two matches, with the Highlanders' George Smith winning over Steve Bradley (5-4) in the 190-pound event, and Rich Wooley, the Cougars' heavyweight, losing

Tough Road Games for Cougars This Weekend

"I don't look back, except to learn," said Coach Jim Dudley of the SIU-SW basketball team after nationally ranked Tennessee State University had whipped his Cougars, 119-85.

The Cougars are 12-5 for the season and Tigers are 13-2. Tennessee's losses were to third-ranked Kentucky State and second-ranked Southwest Louisiana in the NCAA college division.

"Our poor first half shooting (27.5) from the floor against their 50% effort doomed us," Dudley said. "If we'd only hit half of our missed shots that first 20 minutes we would have only been down, 62-38, and still in the ballgame." Shaking his head, he added, "Since there's nothing that I can do about that loss, now I must get the boys up for our next four games."

Those four games, particularly the final three, will be big tests for the Cougars. Starting with last night's game at home against Harris Teachers College, which lost to SIU-SW 112-78 Jan. 12, the Cougars face five winningest St. Louis area team, Concordia Seminary, 14-2, in a Friday night game in St. Louis. The Preachers will be out to avenge their upset loss, 81-79, to the Cougars Dec. 12.

On Saturday night, the Cougars will be on the road once again to Kirksville, Mo., to play the high-flying Northeast Missouri State College team of veteran coach Boyd King.

The Cougars have lost twice to Kirksville in the last two seasons under Harry Gallatin, who played for Northeast before going on to a great pro career.

On Monday night, Coach Dudley's charges will be going against the always tough University of Missouri, St. Louis, Rivermen, who have revenge on their mind. Over three seasons, the Rivermen have topped the Cougars six straight times until their second meeting this season at Edwardsville, Mo., where they won 81-78 over MUSL. In opening games for both schools, UMSL was the winner, 97-75.

Warrior Matmen Down Belleville-West 40-8 In Dual Meet Finale

Granite City High School's matmen finished their season in style with a 40-8 victory over the Belleville-West Maroons Tuesday night, giving them a record of 14 wins and three losses in dual meets this year. The junior varsity squad was also successful at the meet, winning 31-21.

Coach Bill "Red" Schmitt's squad wrestled without three starters, Harry Miller (112), Gary Loy (98) and Mark Mizerski (heavyweight).

Loy was ill Tuesday but is expected to return for the conference meet Saturday and Miller, who has been out with an eye injury, is a questionable starter Saturday. Mizerski, suffering a muscle strain, has been scratched from the conference meet but should be back in the line-up for the district competition Feb. 12 and 13.

Loy's substitute, Mike Green, lost his match by a fall in 1:52, but the Warriors then rallied for 10 straight wins.

Bruce Miller (105) won by a fall in 3:32, and Carrie Johnson (112), substituting for Harry Miller, won his match in an 8-3 decision.

Mike Garland (119) pinned his opponent in 1:18 and Ken Nibur followed with a 12-4 decision victory. Doug Wilson (132) continued the Warrior streak by pinning his opponent in 4:35.

The sixth straight win went to Tom East (188) on a 5-1 decision, and Rick Wickham (155) made it seven with a pin in 1:53. Mike Wilson (167) and Tom Kalert (185) scored the last two Warrior victories and gave them a 14-2 lead. Wilson blanked his opponent 12-0 and Kalert won by a fall in 3:52.

The meet and the Warriors' dual meet season ended on a loss, however, as Craig Stephens, substituting for Mizerski in the heavyweight class, dropped a close decision 2-1.

Winners by pins in the junior varsity competition were Tom Huff (105), Dennis Ragan (126), Rick Paschke (145), Randy Ganz (1 67) and Jack Schooley (185). Winners by decisions were Kirk Howland (132) and Greg Forry (155).

Granite City will enter the conference tournament Saturday in the favored position, having won the last 13 straight conference titles. This is only the third year that the title is to be decided by a tournament, and a straight elimination system will be used. The tournament will begin at noon at Belleville-West and will include the host, the Warriors, Alton, Collinsville, Wood River, Edwardsville and Wood River. Admission for the entire tournament will be $1.

'Champ' Hits 14 in Row as Cougars Best Harris 96-46

John "Champ" Summers of Granite City scored the first 14 points of the second half as the SIU-SW Cougars rolled to a 96-46 victory over Harris Teachers College last night at the Edwardsville gym.

Summers, a Madison High product who led the local Cougars as a junior, contributed 21 points as he continued to regain his old form, sinking nine from the field and three from the free-throw line.

The Cougars themselves had the best night of the four-year university career from the charity stripe, hitting 12 out of 13.

The score was 52-27 at the half.

Coach Jim Dudley used 14 players in the outing, giving his bench some experience. Dave James contributed 14 points and George Katich added 13 to the winning effort.

Rich Essington of Venice, the top Cougar scorer, played briefly and managed one from the field.

The Cougars have a tough weekend coming up, playing three games in four days. They meet Concordia Seminary at St. Louis Friday, will host Northeast Missouri State of Kirksville Saturday and will travel to Missouri University at St. Louis on Monday in a best-of-three match.

Neal led all game scorers with 32 points; al but eight came in the first half as the visitors romped to a 62-40 lead. Summers and Rich Essington each had 20 points for Coach Jim Dudley's team.

Devils Come From Behind, Trip Freeburg

Venice High School's basketball team came from behind in the fourth quarter to defeat Freeburg 52-47 in a road game Tuesday night.

Freeburg attempted a ball control game, holding onto the sphere as much as possible, while the winning Red Devils continued with their usual press, which took effect in the final period.

"We decided to play a little," Coach Bill Ohlendorf said as his Devils racked up their 15th victory in 19 outings.

Meanwhile, Ohlendorf's squad is attempting to sharpen the edges in preparation for a home battle with Summer of St. Louis, one of the top-ranked Missouri teams.

Doug Johnson took scoring honors at Freeburg with 19 points and was the top rebounder with 28. Cedric Gardner came through with 15.

Venice trailed 19-13 at the quarter, climbed to a 25-25 midway tie and had a four-point disadvantage at the half at 37-33.

Louis Hoefel Dies In Hospital at 86

Louis Hoefel, 86, of 1223 Edwardsville Road, died at 1:15 p.m. yesterday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he had been a patient one week. He had been ill four years. Mr. Hoefel was born in Pleasant Ridge, Ill., and lived here 55 years. He retired in 1949 from the Granite City Army Depot where he was a maintenance man for six years. He was a member of Concordia Lutheran Church. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Myrtle Hoefel; one son, Charles H. Hoefel of Granite City; one daughter, Mrs. Wilbert (Alfreda) Smith of Granite City; one grandchild and three great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

Lone Republican, 3 Demos Seek Madison County Seats on Levee District Board

Four candidates to two Madison county seats on the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees filed nominating petitions with County Clerk Eulalia Hotz before the filing deadline at 5 p.m. Tuesday. The filings will provide an uneven split in the primary election, however, since three of the candidates filed on the Democratic ticket and only one candidate filed as a Republican. Such a ballot arrangement would guarantee the election of at least one Democrat. In the St. Clair County portion of the levee district, where three members of the five-man board of trustees are elected, 11 candidates filed nominating petitions before expiration of the deadline at the county clerk's office in Belleville. Eight Democrats and three Republicans filed there. A primary election of five trustees will be held May 4 and a runoff election is scheduled June 22 under an order issued by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie who contends the trusteeships were automatically vacated by conviction of the present four trustees on charges of misconduct in office. Await Court Ruling Plans for an election could be upset, however, if the Illinois

Supreme Court upholds an Appellate Court ruling the petitioned for the two incumbent trustees to remain in office pending appeals of their conviction. Terms of the present trustees—Morris Campbell, George Duff and Lawrence Polak of East St. Louis and William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, expire in 1972. Candidates for the two Madison county levee seats on the Democratic ticket are Von Dee Cruse, 2401a Edwards St.; Walter D. Greathouse, 34 Rivera Drive, and Dale Higgins, 2923 Iowa St. The lone Republican to file in Madison county is John Mangiaracino, 1004 Third St., Venice. He is Republican precinct committeeman of Precinct One in Venice and is chairman of the Venice City Republican Committee. Cruse is the operator of a Granite City tavern and Higgins is humane officer for the city. Greathouse is associated with a wholesale liquor firm.

St. Clair County candidates are Leroy Roberts, Romel R. Wilbon, James Traylor, Charley Meyers, Fred Pekar and Frank Ezell, all of East St. Louis and all Democrats; Martin Swarngin and Mrs. Betty J. Kennedy, both of Cahokia and both Democrats. Rufus T. Burns, Carey Cason and James Pirtle, all of East St. Louis and all Republicans. Following conviction of the four incumbent trustees they were ordered removed from office by circuit court ruling on Dec. 1. The trustees obtained a stay order from the Appellate Court. This ruling was challenged by St. Clair County State's Attorney Robert Rice who appealed to the Supreme Court to reverse the Appellate Court ruling. A decision on that petition is expected soon. Should the high court uphold the Appellate Court stay order, the incumbent trustees would continue in office pending appeals and this would eliminate the need of an election.

Rev. Fred Oliver, 76, Retired Pastor, Dies Rev. Fred H. Oliver Sr., 76, who retired last year as pastor of the Greater Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church, 1035 Market St., Venice, will lie in state at the church after 6 p.m. today. Funeral services will be held there at 8 p.m. today. He died Jan. 31 at the Christian Welfare Hospital, East St. Louis. Rev. Oliver, who resided at 501 North 24th St., East St. Louis, served as pastor here from 1960 to 1970. It was in 1963 that the Bethel AME Church completed its present 80x40-foot brick church structure and moved to the Market Street location. Previously, the church occupied a building at 613 Third St., West Madison. Rev. Oliver was a retired school employee. He is survived by his widow, Bertha; three sons, Fred Jr. and Nacie, both of East St. Louis, and George of St. Louis; four stepsons, Arthur and Albert Williams, both of East St. Louis, James Williams of St. Louis and Wardell Williams of Detroit, Mich.; two brothers, Earl Oliver of Chicago and Leroy Oliver of St. Louis; and a number of grandchildren.

Tutoring Service Needs Volunteer Instructors

Retired teachers and other trained personnel interested in taking part in a tutoring program to assist out-of-school youth are invited to call Sister Cornelia, at 931-0738, for information concerning the project. Volunteer instructors are being sought to help in a program of basic education through which boys and girls, 17 years and older, who have left school, may update their studies to permit them to re-enter high school, or acquire sufficient knowledge to secure employment. Classes will be conducted from 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays, at the Coordinated Youth Services office, 1239 Niedringhaus Ave., Sister Cornelia advised. Sister Cornelia noted that general education subjects will be covered through the tutoring program. Those who would avail themselves of the tutoring service include youths who have dropped out of school and now want to re-enroll, but find they are unable to pickup their educational studies without individual help from a qualified instructor, she explained. Others taking part in the program may need assistance in learning how to complete the necessary forms to secure a job, Sister Cornelia said. Retired school teachers and others willing to help in the tutoring program may contact Sister Cornelia for additional information and an application form.

10 Burglaries and Thefts Reported Here This Week

Ten cases of burglary and theft were reported to Quad-City and Madison County authorities this week.

Office equipment and other items valued at $1,000 were stolen from a business in the Blair School in Venice in a burglary reported at 3:40 p.m. Monday.

Taken were a photocopy machine, an adding machine, a typewriter, two tape recorders, two movie projectors, a movie screen, two basketballs, two cases of soft drinks, meat from the school freezer, and change from a soft drink machine.

In addition the public address system was ripped from the wall of the principal's office and taken.

Three phonographs were found near a door and two others were found at the top of a stairway.

Police said the burglars gained entrance by breaking a window in the principal's office. Burglars took 16 phonographs, shotguns valued at $100 each from the home of Lawrence Hubbard, 2233 Morris Road, it was reported at 11:15 p.m. Sunday. Entry was gained by prying the rear door.

A business band radio valued at $350 was stolen from the auto of Steve Stunkel, Edgewood, while he was parked on the lot at the Granite City Steel Co. Blast Furnace Division, he reported at 5:25 p.m. Tuesday. Entry was gained by prying the right wing window.

House Burglarized
Gary Dean, 1433 E. 653 Margaret Ave., reported to Madison County authorities at 7:40 p.m. Tuesday that his home was burglarized while the family was away from home during the weekend.

Missing were two portable television sets valued at $130 and $160, a stereo radio-phonograph at $200, assorted jewelry at $150, a camera at $75, two lady's watches at $60 and $45, assorted jewelry at $20, an automatic pistol and a jewelry box.

Kenneth Wyatt, 1943 Benton St., reported at 7:35 p.m. Wednesday that a .22 caliber automatic target pistol valued at $80, some ham and three packs of cigarettes were stolen in a burglary of his home. Entry was gained by forcing a basement window.

A stereo tape player and 15 tapes in a case was stolen from the auto of Richard Wagner, 1629 Mitchell Ave., while it was parked on the lot at the Kroger Market, he reported at 5:30 p.m. Monday.

Entry was gained by forcing an object through weather stripping on the left vent of the window. The auto of Harold Schuchman, East St. Louis, parked on the same lot, was entered but nothing was taken.

REMODELING TREES

Remodeling a tree is more expensive than buying a new one if it spoils your landscape or requires continued pruning. Remodeled trees create a better landscape when they produce a better size proportion to your home and landscape plantings. Medium size trees are easily pruned to improve their landscape value while large trees become an ugly stub.

Major pruning and topping are 2 practices which create the same size ratio to your house. But one improves the trees while the other gradually kills trees.

Major pruning thins the top and changes emphasis of growth. A large number of small cuts heal quickly while the height is reduced, and the emphasis changes to horizontal limbs. Re-pruning is seldom required. Initial cost is substantial because of the number of small cuts and the necessity to paint each one.

Topping removes the entire top and depends on re-growth to develop a new crown. The few large cuts never heal and start the rotting phase to create a hollow tree. Clumps of new growth from the stubs require re-pruning to develop a natural appearance and remove some of the suckers. Initial cost is lower but requires additional service. Topping ruins your chances of collecting full value from insurance or deducting from your income tax if a storm or natural disaster occurs.

Total removal and re-planting with a medium sized tree is an alternative. A new tree will allow you to select a better location, a smaller size and other qualities of beauty to fit your landscape.

Owner Ordered to Put Out Dump Fire

Billowing, odorous smoke from a burning dump along Route 203 south of Madison has resulted in a flood of telephone complaints to Carl Buehler, Granite City township supervisor and chairman of the county board's sanitation and pollution committee, but he is unable to do anything about it.

The official said the dump owned by Bud Brown of St. Louis, is located in St. Clair county. Therefore, Brown said, he is unable to act at the county level. Illinois pollution control officials have obtained an injunction against Brown and are awaiting a Feb. 12 deadline for Brown to eliminate the fires, according to Antonio Telford, district air pollution engineer.

The smoke from the fires creates a driving hazard along Route 203, particularly on foggy or rainy days.

GC Man Arrested After Police Chase

Larry D. Metcalf, 22 of the 1700 block of Cleveland Boulevard, was arrested shortly before 2 a.m. yesterday in Normandy, Mo., after allegedly leading police on a high speed, 17 mile chase through the St. Louis metropolitan area, which ended in a collision with a Hillsdale, Mo., squad car.

Police said the chase began in Washington Park when Metcalf passed a city police car at a high rate of speed. East St. Louis police were then notified and joined the chase.

At 1-70 and Bermuda Road in Normandy, Metcalf's car forced a St. Louis police car off the road and collided with the Hillsdale squad car, police said.

Metcalf was charged with destruction of city property in the court of Hillsdale City Judge Douglas Walker. Police said other charges are expected to be filed by police who took part in the chase.

Trainees Plan May Lose Teamsters' Support

A spokesman for Teamsters Local 729 of East St. Louis said yesterday his union is considering withdrawal from participation in Gov. Ogilvie's plan to hire black trainees for highway construction projects.

Kenneth Fultz, vice president of Teamsters Local 729, cited "a lack of cooperative effort" by the Metro-East Labor Council which selects trainees for the program as the reason for the union's dissatisfaction.

Dr. Kiorwitz said the grip test is similar to more common forms of isometric exercises, including lifting, pushing and pulling heavy objects.

He and his colleagues — Drs. Harold Marcus, Roberto Dono, William Gans, H. J. C. Swan and William W. Parmlow — concluded that patients with heart disease should avoid all such forms of isometric exertion.

Heart patients are being urged recently to shun isometric exercise. Reporting at the annual Scientific Session of the American Heart Association, a team of Los Angeles scientists said isometric exercise — exertion without motion — puts a heavy strain on a diseased heart.

The medical researchers from Cedars-Sinai Medical Center studied the effects on the heart and circulation of 22 patients who were asked to maintain a forceful grasp on a hand-grip squeezer (like that used by weightlifters to strengthen their arms).

Boost Pressure, Heart Rate
Dr. Charles Kiorwitz, team spokesman, said the test taxed the hearts of all patients by increasing the blood pressure and heart rate.

Leonard was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for an abrasion to his right knee and laceration to the right side of his face and his right ear. X-rays were taken of his skull, right knee and he was admitted.

The tavern was damaged extensively. A section of cement blocks about five by seven feet was knocked out.

Mrs. Jo Ann Hahn, 27, of 3827 John Glen Drive, was injured while escaping from an impending auto-train wreck at 11:45 p.m. Tuesday at the Pontoon Road rail crossing.

Obvious Air Pollution Continues

To the Editor:
While we spend billions to fight pollution each year, it seems that much of the money must be wasted, like so many of the billions of anti-poverty dollars.

It is a shame for there to be such waste while so-called experts and inspectors close their eyes to pollution sources.

I favor firing the whole St. Clair-Madison Counties bunch. The government should put someone here with courage enough to enforce the laws to protect our health and environment.

Almost daily while homeward bound from my travels, I see flagrant open burning south of Madison, although I have seen numerous times about corrective actions to be taken.

I see dense smoke, sometimes obscuring the ground and highway. It is visible for miles and a pollution official would have to be blind to miss it.

It seems that violators have nothing to worry about in regard to enforcement. Although fines and smoke is down, the situation continues. A few years back, smoke was thick near a highway and traffic accidents occurred.

Other pollution sources also are visible. It is unbelievable that persons paid to protect our health and environment can ignore such conditions.

Let's do something about it and demand action from local, state and federal authorities so that pollution is ended once and for all.

Computation of Taxes Explained

(Internal Revenue Service)

Q) To have you compute my tax, should I just bring my return into an IRS office?

A) No, the computation is done at the IRS service center for your area when you file your return.

The IRS will figure your tax if your income is $20,000 or less and consists only of wages or salaries, and tips, dividends, interest, pensions, and annuities and you choose the standard deduction instead of itemizing deductions.

The IRS will figure both the retirement income tax and your tax for you if you meet the income and deduction requirements.

Just follow the instructions at the top of Schedule R. Be sure to attach the necessary schedules and W-2's and sign your return.

Further details on this can be found on Page 2 of the 1040 instructions.

Q) My son made over $1,000 last year. Does that mean I'll lose his exemption?

A) The amount of your son's earnings will not change his dependency status if he was either a full-time student for the first months of the year or under 19 at year's end.

The support and other dependency tests must still be met, however.

Q) I had about $45 in interest last year from several savings accounts. Do I have to list how much I got from each of them?

A) In cases where interest income is $100 or less, you may omit the total amount of your interest income on the front of your Form 1040.

Tax Changes Apply to '70 Incomes

(First of a Series of Articles by the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants offering advice on filing 1970 federal income tax returns.)

Taxpayers preparing their federal income tax returns for 1970 will be affected in a number of ways by provisions of the 1969 Tax Reform Act that took effect during the past year.

According to Roy Soll, chairman of the federal income tax Committee on Taxation of the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants, there are plus and minus for all taxpayers.

A great benefit to many was the expiration of withholding of the surcharge on wages last June 30.

That cutoff does not mean that the surcharge applies only to income received during the first half of the year. The surcharge is levied at the rate of 2½% against all income earned in 1970, so individuals who may have earned the bulk of their income after June 30 will have to pay additional tax on the income from which no surcharge was withheld.

On the other hand, if one's income remained fairly steady all year and was derived mainly for all. Let's not wait until conditions get worse or wait for outsiders to do our job for us.

WANTS DATA ON INCOME
To the Editor:

Open letter to Sam Valadeben. Along with other campaign promises too voluminous to mention at this time, you promised to publish your income to the public.

Although I read most of the local news media daily, I have not yet seen this accomplished. Of all your campaign promises, it seems as if this would be the easiest to fulfill.

In fact, I should think that you would be especially eager to publish your income, considering the Paul Powell controversy and your campaign literature which implied that you and Powell were "close friends."

More Officials Revealing Income But State Should Adopt Such Laws While Time Is Ripe

Neither of the prospective 1972 gubernatorial opponents has any shoeboxes except those filled with shoes, judging by their financial disclosures.

Lt. Gov. Paul Simon (D) has been divulging his income yearly: Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie (R) on Tuesday bared his monetary status, a net worth of $91,000. Both rely primarily on the salaries of their respective offices, along with fees for some of their speaking engagements.

The discovery of the $800,000-plus cash horde of Secretary of State Paul Powell following his sudden death during the fall is the subject of many investigations and certain of their actions related to his possessions may lead to prosecution of all governmental units, including Illinois.

An even more important result may well be the adoption of stringent financial disclosure requirements for Illinois elected and appointed officials.

Such disclosure regulations have been sought for years but were successfully resisted by legislators. We hope they act resolutely and promptly under the pressure of the Powell case, since delay could lead to a return of public apathy and Assembly inaction.

The plan submitted to the legislature this week would go a long way toward restoring public confidence in Illinois government. It includes disclosure of all major sources of income, debts, gifts and honorariums by all elected officials of all governmental units, including local-level agencies, if they receive more than $5,000 a year, and by all appointed officials earning $20,000 or more.

A proposed law would require disclosure of political gifts, major contributors and spending in all election and referendum campaigns.

Illinoisans clearly want such actions. We hope the General Assembly strikes while the iron is hot.

Inflation Puffing Up the Price of Stamps

Being able to remember the two-cent stamp, we never thought we would become attached to the six-cent stamp. But now that the cost of mailing a first-class letter seems about to rise to eight cents—the fourth increase in 12 years—we realize we will have to use the six-cent stamp.

Pitchmen who used to urge listeners to "send in a penny postcard" seem to have disappeared. To mobilize competent and responsible individuals for sustained action against crime, a voluntary leadership group in the community, such as the local Chamber of Commerce, must take charge of the situation.

This is the first and essential step toward reducing crime. Your community may already have taken this step.

To help local business leaders and others take the initiative, and to fight crime systematically and effectively, the National Chamber—through its Community and Regional Development Group—has published a new 128-page handbook called, "Marshaling Citizen Power Against Crime."

This document is the product of purposive research. It gets to the bottom of things. It highlights the problems which today face the criminal justice system. The problems are:

1. Roadblocks that stand in the way of the local police.

2. Lack of order in the courts: Example: "Most courts in the nation are not well run; most do not have effective management capability. Nobody designed the system. It just grew that way."

3. A correctional system that does far more harm than good. Example: "Most jails are overcrowded and in a state of decay. They promote unsafe and outright brutal practices, and encourage many first offenders to become career criminals."

More than half of those who go through the corrections process repeat the same offenses. "Marshaling Citizen Power Against Crime" is factual and revealing and makes fascinating reading. But it is not intended merely to be read. It is a working tool.

It explains in detail how to district commissioner, and Al Schmiedake, district activities chairman.

Mrs. Elizabeth Durrer, 901 Third St., Venice, was honored on her birthday with a dinner party at the home of her son, Bernard, with whom she resides.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roseman and daughter, Helen, and his mother, Mrs. Barbara Roseman, returned from a month's vacation in the Southwest, including visits to former residents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Coffelt, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Breuer and Mrs. Harry Wendell.

One hundred local Boy Scouts will visit the state capital in observance of Boy Scout Week, accompanied by Rollin Henn, made a successful transition to "three-penny" and then "five-penny postcards" but we wonder how "seven-penny" is going to sound.

Loman, Gabriel, Partney, Froemling Will Lead Planning for Anniversary Observance

Selection of Barry Loman as general chairman, with Mayor Donald Partney, Park President Henry Gabriel and Chamber of Commerce President Albert H. Froemling as honorary—but active—chairmen, gives a sound start to the planning for a Granite City anniversary celebration in 1971.

The joint occasion is the city's 75-year milestone, the park district's 50th anniversary and the completion of a half century since the Sisters of Divine Providence began operating St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The summer commemorative program should be a festive time for all. It will be highly interesting to review the events which make up the history of the park system, municipality and hospital.

State Activity for Airport, Roads, Rapid Transit, Recreation Big Help to This Area

Governor Ogilvie is being written off by some people of both parties as a "one-term governor," because it was during his administration that Illinois adopted a state income tax. It is possible they are right, but we recall similar predictions from the first term of Otto Kern, governor from 1967 to 1969.

Although not as outgoing and effervescent as some of the postwar Illinois state officials, the governor has been a whirlwind of constructive activity. As he said in his Tri-Cities Manufacturers at their annual dinner Jan. 28, an extraordinarily large amount of funds has been allocated for highway construction in this region.

The vast new metropolitan airport should be a billion-dollar economic stimulus.

Coupled with a billion-dollar-plus rapid transit proposal and the continuing effort to establish a major state recreation and wildlife facility at Horseshoe Lake Park and the Cahokia Mound Park, such planning could be of tremendous value to the Quad-Cities and Madison.

It is too early to reach conclusions about this year's elections, much less next year's balloting, but it is clear that the Ogilvie record will be a long, varied, imaginative list.

Retailers Spotlight Traffic, Downtown Mall as Urgent Issues Facing This Area

Associated Retailers and their new officers and directors—Homer Huber, Paul Niebur, Howard Ebertson, Ralph Morris, Arnold Fleishman, Charles Rauh, Joseph Glick, Fred Wismar, Allen Reese, Maurice Rich, Rudy Novik, Morris Helman, Norman Hall, Fred Strauss, Harvey Hicken and Paul Halbert—are "on target" in citing the downtown mall and Quad-City's auto traffic as immediate, urgent needs.

As President Huber points out, the Granite City central business district formerly was the victim of the adverse business effects of traffic congestion; now, the malady afflicts the Nameko Road shopping centers as well and, to some extent the Madison-Venice and Point Beach commercial areas.

The problem includes not only traffic jams within shopping districts but the routes which connect one district with another.

No local municipality has escaped congestion. All of them undoubtedly will accord high priority to traffic improvements in 1971.

Winter Wonderland

By BILL WINTER

Editor, Press-Record

The last book "authored" by John F. Kennedy, the late Illinois Secretary of State Paul Powell, is receiving added attention this winter due to the disclosure of Mr. Powell's $800,000-plus "cash hoard," kept in shoeboxes and other containers.

In Secretary Powell's words, "The Blue Book came into existence in 1861 and was a slim volume listing only legislative officers."

Today, it is Illinois' most essential not only to public officials and political leaders but to students, journalists and librarians as well. While it has great value as a reference book, its basic purpose . . . is a biennially issued report on Illinois government."

As he said in the introduction, the book is proudly illustrated. For the first time, the portraits of state and federal officials, U. S. senators and Illinois Supreme Court Justices are presented in color.

Not surprisingly, Secretary Powell's readers' special attention to an article, "South-ern Illinois—Where an Area Concept Creates a Renaissance and a Renewal of the Faith and Spirit," by Geoffrey Hughes, executive director of Southern Illinois, Inc.

Another featured article is "The Reconstructed and Refurbished Old State Capitol" by Howard F. Rissler, historical research editor of the Illinois State Historical Library.

Any publication known as the "Blue Book" ought to be colorful and the latest version does not disappoint.

Among the full-color pictures are the Illinois state flag, officially adopted July 1, 1797; the state bird, the cardinal; the state flower, the native violet; the state mineral, fluorspar; and the state tree of Illinois, the native oak.

The Secretary Powell accurately said the preface that the 890-page Blue Book is such a mammoth undertaking and its information so detailed that it is the state tree of Illinois, the native oak.

Local DeMolay Chapter Honored for 50 Years

James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, was honored upon being in its 50th year of organization at a public officer installation conducted Sunday by the Ascalon Chapter at the Collinsville Masonic Temple.

It was noted that DeMolay is in its 50th year in Illinois and that Granite City was the first chapter in the state.

Marking "The Golden Year of Achievement," those honored included Edward C. Bleier, executive officer for the International Supreme Council for Illinois; Charles Meyer, chapter advisor; William J. Mehl, charter member and the first living past master councilor; and Mrs. "Aunt Verna" Stuart, widow of James "Uncle Jimmy" Stuart, who was advisor from 1932 to 1965.

In responding, Meyer introduced Mehl, Mrs. Stuart, Dr. Amos Rodin, excellent high priest of the Granite City Royal Arch Masons and a member of the advisory council; Paul Boyer, master councilor; other chapter officers and members and Meyer's wife, Mrs. Jo Meyer.

Mehl, in recounting the beginning of DeMolay in Illinois, said that the Granite City chapter was, at its inception, and still is sponsored by the local R.A.M.

The chapter received letters temporary on May 24, 1921, in institution on July 5 and was chartered on Aug. 15. The original charter class of 30 was initiated in June of that year.

Mehl pointed out that during the depression the chapter was almost disbanded because of lack of leadership and difficult financial times. "Uncle Ed" Juttmeier of Alton spearheaded a move to preserve the group, and in the fall of 1932 James Stuart became temporary advisor.

Mehl pointed out that during the name was changed to the James Stuart Chapter on Jan. 1, 1960, as a memorial to Stuart who died Oct. 3, 1965.

Meyer later pointed out that DeMolay in Illinois has a membership of more than 5,000 in 14 districts and 84 chapters, of which Granite City's is the largest in the state.

Fourth of Veterans Return To School, Many Need Jobs

The President has asked me to marshal the resources of the federal, state, and local governments and private employers in a nationwide Jobs for Veterans campaign," James F. Oates Jr., chairman, has advised the Press-Record.

"Jobs for Veterans is a national effort to highlight the returning veteran and to make effective use of the talents and skills he has acquired in the military service. Each veteran deserves the opportunity to find his place in our economic system," he commented in explaining the program.

"Each year, over one million servicemen and women complete their military service in the armed forces and return to civilian life. Perhaps one-half of them will return directly to school, but most will desire to enter the civilian employment market.

"Many young men and women completing military service will be seeking their first significant job. This is a critical period for these young people, especially those returning to areas where the competition for jobs will be increasing," Oates said.

Utilize Government, Business

"We are asking each governor and county executive and the mayor of every city with a population of over 10,000 to develop job opportunities and training programs by utilizing existing government and private employment and training programs.

"The resources of the federal government have been pledged to help advance and implement the program. The facilities of the Federal-State Employment Service System of the U.S. Department of Labor and Veterans Administration offices will assist employers and organizations in Jobs for Veterans.

"We urge all to give this campaign their personal attention and alert employers about the status of returning veterans in this area. The public can also be instrumental in the formation of local task forces and the participation of community groups in this national effort.

Headquarters of the National Committee—Jobs for Veterans is at 1400 Wilson Blvd., Arlington, Va. 22209.

New Windshields Are Reducing Injury Toll

Research studies give mounting evidence that improved windshields have helped reduce fatal and moderate injuries to front seat occupants of motor vehicles, the U.S. Department of Transportation has reported.

The department's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration is convinced of the significant safety benefits provided by high penetration resistant (HPR) windshields. Since Jan. 1, 1968, Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 208 has required that windshields be made of improved laminated safety glass.

A Travelers Research Corporation report shows, after examining the results of frontal impact accidents involving at least 3,500 drivers and right front occupants, that the HPR windshield produced a 18%-22% reduction in the number of drivers and right front passengers with windshield-rated head injuries.

Fatal head injuries decreased from 4.1% (standard windshield glass) to 2.8% (HPR glass), or a 30% reduction. An even more significant reduction (approximately 67%) is recorded when dangerous injuries are compared for each type of windshield.

More Drugs Seized by State Investigators

In its first year the Illinois Bureau of Investigation has seized more than 40 times as many drugs as were confiscated in the previous year, according to IBI Director Mitchell Ware.

Created by the 78th General Assembly at the request of Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, IBI is the focal point of the Department of Law Enforcement.

Between July 1, 1969, and June 30, 1970, agents of the narcotic control division seized 17,492 capsules and tablets of LSD, 687,380 grams of marijuana and 119.49 grams of heroin, as compared to seizures of 470 capsules and tablets of LSD, 131,254 grams of marijuana and 52.32 grams of heroin during the previous fiscal period, Ware reported.

Five hundred and seven persons were arrested for sale or possession of drugs for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1970, compared to 377 persons arrested for these violations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1969.

St. Peter United Guilds Hold Fellowship Dinner

The Afternoon and Evening Guilds of St. Peter United Church of Christ held a combined Women and Girls Fellowship dinner Monday evening at the church. Approximately 120 were present. A Valentine theme was used in the appointments with the traditional red and white of the season the prevailing colors. Mrs. Mildred Hoelscher presented the program by introducing live members of the East Bank Players, who sang selections from various musicals performed during the past year. Those participating were Gail Hamilton, Norma Mendoza, Anita Gasparovic, Bev Henderson, Mark Gifford was the piano accompanist and also provided after dinner music. The Evening Guild conducted a brief business meeting following the program. Mrs. Pat Malotki presided. The Guild will assist in serving the pot luck supper preceding the first Sunday Lenten service Feb. 28, and also will assist with the Lenten supper to be given by the Brotherhood of the church Feb. 17. Rev. Eugene Ostendorf of Hamel, Ill., will be guest speaker at the March 1 meeting and visitors are invited to hear his talk on "Air and Water Pollution."

WHITTE BY WHITTE NAMES PRINCE OF WEEK

Jimmy Showwell was crowned "prince for the week" during the Monday night meeting of the Whittle by Whittle Club. He received a selection of fruit and the club sang a special song in his honor. Mrs. Pat Pelo, club leader, presided for the evening's business session, and reports were given by Mrs. Ruth Hubbard and Mrs. Mary Free. Weights were recorded by Miss Ruth Stover and Mrs. Shirley Sobolewski. Mrs. Jo Gipson received a gift from the "Wishing Well" as "Back Slider of the Week." The club's annual coronation has been canceled until further notice due to the hospitalization of the Queen of the Year, Mrs. Virginia Cotter. She has undergone back surgery and is a patient in Room 155, Belleville Memorial Hospital. Correspondence was read from Mrs. Datha Ely, a club member who has recently been released from the hospital. Plans were made to hold a "silent auction" of white elephants contributed by the members. All proceeds of the auction will go towards the cost of members attending the Area Recognition Day in Springfield this spring. Items are to be brought to the next meeting. A new "Pre-Teen" award was established and will begin next week. This weekly award will go to the pre-teen member losing the most weight during the

Maryville Rd. Traffic

Problem to Committee

The Granite City council referred to its traffic committee for study Monday night a letter from School Superintendent H. J. Davis urging creation of plans for a safer manner of crossing Maryville Road for students of Maryville school where one pupil was killed and another critically injured in a traffic accident Jan. 19.

Council members agreed to meet with the school, township, county and state officials in an attempt to solve the problem of better traffic control, but were generally cool to the suggestions of traffic signals at the intersection.

Instead, Mayor Donald Parney suggested construction of a pedestrian overpass which he said was certain could be built with funds allocated under the present OPCS program, a plan under which funds are granted for highway safety projects.

The mayor told council members he had met the previous week with representatives of the school district, the township, the county highway department and the state highway department.

He said that in the past the city, county and state has maintained parts of Maryville Road.

"We have put in traffic lights before and still had accidents," Parney said.

He said that further meetings are planned between school, city and county officials to discuss the matter.

Low-Cost Plate Lunches Being Served at Campus

Low-cost plate lunches are being served daily in the cafeteria of Southern Illinois University - Southern. The lunches, selling for 55 to 75 cents, will be similar to those served in area high schools, according to William Crabb, manager of University Food Services.

The new low-cost lunches have been added to existing menus as the result of a student strike demanding lower prices, greater menu variety and larger servings. The strike has cut cafeteria receipts about 10% daily.

Food service at the local campus operated at a deficit of $11,000 in the fiscal year ending last June 30. In September, food prices were increased 3.5% to compensate in part for an 18% increase in cost of food, labor and supplies. The price hike was calculated to bring the food service to a break-even point during the current year, students were told.

In addition to the daily plate lunch, food service will also offer a variety of sandwiches, ranging in price from 17 to 69 cents, and a low-budget "nutrition bowl" priced between 22 and 30 cents. The "nutrition bowl" will consist of navy beans and pork, pinto beans and bacon, red beans and sausage or varieties of rice.

Russell Named to Post In Education Division

A new position, associate dean of the Education Division for Graduate Studies at Southern Illinois University-Southern, has been created. Ivan L. Russell, a member of the foundations faculty, has been named to the position, with approval by the Board of Trustees.

The associate deanship was established to serve as a liaison for the Education Division with the Graduate School, according to Russell. He said about 80% of all graduate students on the campus are from the Education Division.

Additional duties of the associate dean will be to review old programs, aid in the development of new ones, and assist in the selection of new faculty.

Professor Russell earned the B.S. and M.S. degrees from SIU, Carbondale, and the Ph.D. from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Prior to joining the local faculty, Russell was chairman of the foundations department at the University of Missouri at St. Louis. He has also held the position of coordinator of research and graduate studies at the University of Kentucky at Lexington, served as assistant superintendent of schools in Aurora, and was an associate professor on the SIU-Carbondale faculty from 1954 to 1961.

Regular admission will be charged for the 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. dance.

"J. Christopher" is booked to play on Feb. 13, with "Arrow Memphis" scheduled for Feb. 20.

10 Seconds Decisive, Braves 2nd

(SP) -- 10 Seconds ... R

Rozans captured the Mad-

son County Junior High School

Conference wrestling chamionship by winning 30-14 at Coolidge here yesterday. A victory would have given the host

Braves the championship.

The loss was not as one-sided

as the score. "Ten seconds" difference in three bouts would have given us a 25-2 win."

Pianist to Compete With Whale in Concert

There is nothing unusual in musical circles about a singer and a pianist vying for top billing at a concert. But if the singer happens to be a whale? Pianist Marian Cammon of the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern music faculty will be competing with such a huge mammal Friday when she performs "And God Created Whales," by Alan Hovhannes with the SIU-SW Orchestra. According to conductor Robert Schieber, "Dr. Cammon should be able to capitalize on the advantage of visibility, since the magnitude of the whale precludes its appearing in person. The whale will be represented by the tape recorder."

"In composing the music for this work," Schieber explained, "Hovhannes used the actual sons of the humpback whale as a solo part for a concerto for whales and orchestra. The work was premiered last June 11 by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, with Andre Kostelanetz conducting."

The concert in the Communications Building theater opens at 8:15 p.m. with the orchestra playing Overture to "Egmont," Opus 84, by Beethoven.

Also included on the program will be Manuel de Falla's "Nights in the Gardens of Spain," symphonic impressions for piano and orchestra, and dances from the ballet "Estancia" by Alberto Ginastera. The concert is open to the public, admission free.

The featured artist, Mrs. Cammon, received her bachelor's degrees in piano from Juillard School of Music and a diploma from Mozarteum, Salzburg, Austria. Her doctorate in piano was earned at the University of Michigan.

Style Show by 50 Stylish Junior High School Misses

A mid-winter fashion show held at the Central Junior High School auditorium featured the design and workmanship of seventh and eighth grade girls in clothing classes under the direction of Mrs. Alton Brennan, home economics teacher.

Over 50 young ladies modeled the clothes they had made, appearing before an audience of parents and fellow students.

Charlene Bennett, 13, modeled her first clothing project, a brown mini dress and pant suit. The fabric is a cotton called kettle cloth. The cuffs and collar are a coordinated beige of the same fabric. The matching pants are carefully and trimly fitted with darts and waistline facing. She made a matching hat from her leftover material. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett.

Gloria Garrison, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Garrison, chose the new and controversial mid-length dress as her second project. It has a ribbon drawstring through the neckline casing, and long raglan sleeves with elastic casing forming self-ruffles at the wrists. There is a wide red belt to provide a cinched waist look. She wears the dress with boots.

Terri Moran, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Moran, chose a gold brocade formal maxi dress, with a low "U"-shaped neckline and a skirt softly gathered to an Empire waistline. It has a sparkling ribbon belt and full, feminine puffed sleeves.

Sews for Young Sister
Kathy Money, 13, wanted to learn to crochet. She decided on a black and orange poncho, and then made a pair of black slacks and a matching orange long-sleeved blouse. Kathy then made for her sister, Yvonne, four years old, a dress out of peach-colored dotted swiss, with a full circular skirt and standup collar. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dale Money.
Cathy Garner, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Merv, chose a bright and cheerful tartan plaid for her pants and reversible vest outfit. The vest has patch pockets on the plaid side and the reverse is in a brilliant red bonded flannel.

Homemaker Winner Named at St. Teresa's

St. Teresa Academy's 1971 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is senior Cindy Maszynski. Selected for her performance in a written knowledge and attitude examination administered to senior girls on Dec. 1, Cindy will receive a specially designed award from General Mills, sponsor of the annual education program.

Additionally, she is now eligible for state and national honors, including one of 102 college scholarships totaling $110,000.

Flutist to Present Recital on Sunday
Janet Scott of the SIU-SW music faculty will be presented Sunday in a flute recital. Open to the public, admission free, the recital is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

Attorney General Fights Threat of Full Assessment

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott has begun a fight to save property owners from the threat of having their real estate tax bills doubled for the current year. The threat is contained in a taxpayer's suit seeking to force state tax officials to assess all property at 100 percent of value. The practice in Illinois for more than 40 years has been to value property for tax purposes at 50 percent, although this is clearly contrary to Illinois law.

The suit was filed Sept. 24, 1968 in Lake County Circuit Court by an attorney, Paul E. Hamer and June T. Hamer of Northbrook. It has twice been before the Illinois Supreme Court, which recently remanded the case for further hearings.

Attorney General Scott asked Lake County Circuit Court Judge Harry D. Strouse for judgment in the suit until the Illinois General Assembly can act on proposed legislation that would legalize present assessing practices. Scott said he strongly backs passage of this legislation.

Seeks Corrective Legislation
The Attorney General said that taxes based on 100 percent assessment in compliance with the present letter of the law would result in a catastrophic burden on many homeowners. The way to solve the problem, Scott said, is to secure corrective legislation in this Session of the General Assembly.

Assistant Attorney General Robert A. Maloney said that in the case, said that Hamer's suit contends that home owners in Lake County bear a tax based on approximately 55 percent valuation of their homes, while industrial property is taxed at about 25 percent of its value. Hamer asks that the 1970 tax bills for industrial and residential property be computed on the basis of 50 percent of value, and those for both industrial and homes be computed at 100 percent of full fair cash value for 1971, Maloney explained.

Hamer also asks that industry be required to pay additional taxes for 1968 and 1969, based on the higher assessment, the Assistant Attorney General said.

Auto Hit in Rear
An auto driven by Harry Wolff, 1843 Madison Ave., halted for a stop sign, was struck from behind by a car driven by Gayle L. Flood, 2513 E. 25th St., at 2:25 p.m. Monday at 19th Street and Madison Avenue.

ACT Family Analysis Forms Required at SIU

A reminder that new ACT family need analysis forms will be required of Southern Illinois students who wish to qualify for any kind of state or federal assistance during the coming summer or fall terms has been issued by the SIU Student Work and Financial Assistance office at Carbondale.

The requirement covers students who will participate in the work program as well as those who will receive any of the various kinds of scholarships, loans or grants. It applies both to present students who will return and to new students enrolling for the first time, according to Raymond P. DeFarnett, assistant director of the SIU student work office.

DeFarnett said the new ACT forms should be filled out as soon as possible after the student's family has filed its state and federal income tax returns so that sufficient time is allowed for processing the forms.

Regional Report -- Site Annexed by GC for Shopping Center, Apartments

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)
A request to rezone a parcel of land along Illinois 161 for a shopping center was referred last week to the board's zoning committee; rezoning of the site earlier was approved by the St. Clair County Zoning Board of Appeals.

Some residents in the area of the proposed shopping center have objected to the business development because of the traffic it will generate.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

In Granite City, the City Council officially annexed a proposed shopping center-apartment complex on the east edge of Granite City along Pontoon Road.

Plans for a new building in Fairview Heights have been announced by the Illinois Federal Savings and Loan Association, currently with offices in East St. Louis.

Approval of the Federal Home Loan Bank -- and a change in the branch banking law if the firm decides to keep its present East St. Louis office -- are required before the proposed savings and loan building could open for business.

In another Fairview Heights development, a judge of the Judicial Circuit dismissed the request of property owners on the east side of the city to detach the area from Fairview Heights; the Belcoet store which rents part of the area involved thus remains in Fairview Heights.

In Troy, a parcel of land upon which an auto-truck plaza is proposed was annexed to the city.

A proposed suit requesting a declaratory judgment by the Southern Illinois Builders Association, the resumption of construction on some suspended projects, and the rejection of a discrimination injunction by the U. S. Department of Justice were the major items this week in the continuing story of highway construction in this region.

The Southern Illinois Builders Association, caught between the Ogilvie plan for equal employment on highway projects and contracts with local labor unions, plans to ask for a resolution of the conflict in a U. S. District Court.

The state plan calls for the training of minority group members and the placement of them on highway construction projects. The unions with whom the construction firms have hiring hall agreements say the trainees are not union members and have not received sufficient training.

Construction on Rt. 143 bridge west of Edwardsville was resumed last week with the resumed labor force; under the Ogilvie plan the hiring of trainees begins with the third member of a craft.

In Chicago, a U. S. Court of Appeals has refused to issue a temporary injunction against two carpenter union locals of this region against which the Department of Justice had brought charges of racial discrimination.

The General Services Administration had agreed to provide an easement through the east edge of the Granite City Army Depot for Rt. 151, the Great River Road. The federal government will assume the costs of relocating the utilities in the path of the proposed extension of the four-lane highway.

The advantages of an Illinois site for the second major airport for the St. Louis Region were stated again by Robert Browne, chief of the Federal Aviation Administration airport field branch in Kansas City.

All sites in Illinois are within 19 miles of the center of passenger origin, now located approximately in Clayton, while the closest acceptable site in Missouri is 29 miles southwest of Clayton.

Costs of construction of a new airport are also smaller in Illinois, and environmental factors are better in Illinois.

A judge of the U. S. District Court has declared unconstitutional an ordinance of the city of Alton prohibiting the hiring of new workers to replace those on strike.

A suit requesting a ruling was filed by the Alton Box Board Co. against the Alton plant of the firm have been on strike since Aug. 20.

A dispute between the Hunter Packing Co. and security guards at the company's East St. Louis plant, which resulted in the establishment of picket lines by the guards and the honoring of these lines by nearly 800 employees, has been resolved.

The John Morrell Co., which owns the plant, has agreed to not replace the current company-employed guards with an outside guard service until negotiations with the current guards are completed, probably by March 31.

Lower 1970 earnings were reported by companies with regional plants. The Alton Box Board Co., with plants in Alton and Highland, reported net operating income in 1970 of $1.08 a share, compared to $2.39 a share in 1969.

General Steel Industries, which includes a plant in Granite City, had a net loss of $1.11 per share in 1970, compared to net income of $1.20 a share in 1969. Another company with a Granite City plant, A. O. Smith Corp., reported profits of $2.95 a share in 1970 compared to $5.84 in 1969.

In general area news, the Alton and Southern Railroad has approved preliminary plans for an underpass at 42nd and State Sts. East St. Louis.

Dr. Gordon Moore was elected to his sixth term as president of the Illinois Police Department.

Rose Randolph has recommended that William Dye succeed him as head of the East St. Louis Police Department.

An investigation of alleged air pollution at the American Zinc Co. in Sanger, East St. Louis, has been appointed Chairman of the St. Clair County Zoning Board of Appeals.

Pvt. Shane Leaves For Army Training

Private Carolyn Ann Shane left last week for Fort McClellan, Ala., where she will undergo basic training as a member of the U. S. Army Women's Corps. Upon completion of the basic instruction period, she has selected specialty training in the nursing field.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Shane, 2213 Monroe Ave., the new cadet was graduated in 1969 from Granite City High School. She has been employed for more than 2½ years at Mrs. Seibold's Bakery Shop on Madison Avenue.

Pvt. Shane contributed many hours of volunteer service as a Candy Stripper at St. Elizabeth Hospital, while a high school teenager, and through the program became interested in an Army nursing career, her mother said.

Appreciation Letter Earned by Local GI

Army Specialist Four Russell William Hamilton has received a letter of appreciation in recognition of "his sincere effort and outstanding performance of duty" since arrival in Vietnam.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Hamilton, 4461 Highway 162, the serviceman is stationed with the 86th Engineer Battalion (Construction), near Phan Thiet.

The letter of appreciation, the second such commendation he has earned since arriving in Vietnam last July, recognized the local soldier's ability in the fields of carpentry and masonry, specifically noting his assistance in placing a large concrete culvert in position.

Vandals Damage Auto

Arthur Smith, 125 Weaver St., Venice, told police at 8:20 a.m. Tuesday that the windshield of his auto was broken and the right rear door was dented by vandals while the car was parked behind his home. A piece of chrome near the right headlight also was damaged.

Small Business Aid Highly Active in Madison County

Robert A. Dwyer, midwest regional director of the Small Business Administration, on Monday night described the SBA as "a tremendous success story."

During a address to the Alton Rotary Club in the Stratford Hotel, Dwyer cited particularly "significant gains made by the SBA in downstate Illinois."

"The story of SBA under the Nixon Administration has been one of unparalleled success," said Dwyer, who, with headquarters in Chicago, administers the agency activities in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana.

"Loans are up . . . dollars are up . . . private sector participation is up . . . contracts are up . . . and productivity is up."

According to Dwyer, on a nationwide basis, the SBA made a 32,000 loans in fiscal year 1970, which, ended June 30 -- an increase of 98 percent over fiscal 1969.

He also pointed out that a record 888 million dollars were involved in the loans.

"Yet," he explained, "we did it with fewer government dollars." Banks provided 490 million dollars -- more than ever before.

Dwyer stressed the upswing in SBA activity in Illinois and particularly the downstate area. The number of loans in Illinois increased by 388 percent over fiscal 1968.

"The increase in dollar amounts was even more significant," he said. "There the increase was 400 percent."

Citing the intensified effort in downstate Illinois, Dwyer pointed to the opening last April of a permanent SBA office in Springfield. This office administers agency activity in 68 downstate counties.

150 Loans in State
According to Dwyer, in the last six months in the Springfield office alone, more than 150 loans had been granted totaling more than 11 million dollars.

Dwyer said SBA activity had been somewhat limited in Alton, but added that the agency is "active in a very major way" in Madison and St. Clair counties.

In the two counties, he said, there currently are 85 loans outstanding totaling more than 1½ million dollars.

"And," Dwyer added, "we are working hard to generate more activity."

Part of this effort, he said, includes the visit of an SBA representative to the area on a monthly basis.

The representative, known as an SBA "circuit rider," has a full knowledge of all SBA programs, Dwyer said, and is available to the public the first Thursday of each month in the Commerce offices, 234 Collinsville Ave.

According to Dwyer, the next circuit rider visit to East St. Louis will be Thursday.

Work on Building at Carbondale Progresses

Service to Southern Illinois and the rest of the state, as well as to the University community, is the main element of the $8.6 million University Center expansion program on Southern Illinois University's Carbondale campus.

Huge shell areas left in the original $4.5 million building are being worked out that will double the ballroom size to a 1,300 seating capacity for banquets; increase the number of private meeting and dining rooms from seven to 11 with more adequate room facilities; provide a table service dining room expected to open in early summer; and greatly increase cafeteria and snack facilities.

New construction being added to the south will contain a 200-seat auditorium, extensive lounge areas, a large snack area designed for 24-hour service; and a 24-hour, fully automated postal service.

The auditorium is expected to be open in early-to-mid-summer. No tax money is involved in construction or operation. The construction is financed by revenue bonds liquidated through student fees and center earnings.

University Center Director Clarence G. Dougherty said he expected the entire project to be completed when the fall quarter of classes begins in September. But in use right now are most of the 11 new meeting rooms, named after rivers in the state and called River Rooms.

Ceramic Art Exhibit Planned at Campus

Works of internationally-known Japanese-American ceramist Teruhiko Takekazu will be on exhibit at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, Feb. 2-28 in the lobby of the Communications Building.

Miss Takekazu will be on the campus Feb. 7-9 to lecture to students and demonstrate ceramic processes.

A reception for the artist will be held Feb. 7 from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Communications Building lobby. The public is invited, admission free.

One of the featured artists in a recent National Educational Television program "With These Hands," Miss Takekazu teaches at Princeton University. She received her master's degree in fine arts from the Cranbrook Academy of Art in Michigan and has taught at Cranbrook and at the Cleveland Art Institute.

Works of the ceramist are represented in collections in the Metropolitan Art Museum in New York City, the Victoria and Albert Museum in London and in museums in Cleveland and Detroit.

COMPUTERIZED CAR POOL. Students, faculty and staff of SIU-SW can receive help on formulating car pools by computer. A university group, Environmental Action for SIU (EnACTs), matches residence and campus schedules of campus personnel. Each participant receives a readout listing ten other persons with similar schedules and nearby home addresses. A sample project will be evaluated late this month. If people express interest in continuing the project, the free service will be operated during registration for spring quarter. Seen with the computer are (left) Donna Mitten, a graduate student and chairman of the car pool committee, and Richard Parker, associate professor and advisor for EnACTs.

Bids Called for New VIT Campus Building

Construction bids will be opened March 9 for the first permanent classroom-office building at Southern Illinois University's Vocational-Technical Institute near Carbondale. The 75,000-square foot structure will replace a building partly destroyed by fire Jan. 31. Bids will be taken in the Chicago offices of the Illinois Building Authority.

The project carries a $275,000 budget, all but $250,000 of it earmarked for general construction from IBA and federal Health, Education and Welfare funds.

The design by Birmingham, Mich., architects Gunnar Birkerts & Associates, calls for two connecting wings, each of them two stories high. They will be the first elements of a series of interconnected buildings master-planned by Birkerts as a permanent VIT campus.

177 Girls Take Entrance Tests At St. Teresa's

One hundred seventy-seven girls have taken entrance tests at St. Teresa's Academy, East St. Louis, for the next school year. For the first time since 1967, the number of applicants showed an increase over the previous year.

While the major testing program is the same for all Catholic high schools of the Belleville diocese, one special feature at St. Teresa's was the giving of tests in both modern and traditional mathematics, so that the math curriculum may be geared more precisely to the students' actual needs.

This is in line with the policy of St. Teresa's of tailoring the offerings to the abilities and desires of the students, with an ever-increasing use of individualized instruction.

While early registration is urged in order to plan for 1971-72, it is still possible for students to arrange for entrance tests and registration at St. Teresa's by calling Sister Mary Simpson, ASC, principal, or Sister Mary Carol Werner, registrar, at 874-7922.

Pollution Study Says Fuel Shortage Looms

Illinois will face a drastic fuel shortage if current emphasis to reduce air-pollution forces major energy users to switch to low-sulfur coal, according to an independent two-year study financed primarily by the federal government.

The study warns that the predicted shortage "gives no promise of relief by importation of low-sulfur coal from alternate sources or by substituting other fuels which are currently in short supply in the areas of their primary use."

On the bright side, should an "orderly changeover" be made from high to low sulfur coal use within about a five-year period, no significant fuel shortage would develop, but costs would rise, the study indicated.

SIU's 'Little Trade School' Grows to Highly Technical Vocational Institute

Southern Illinois University's "little trade school in the powder plant" has come of age.

1971 marks the 21st birthday of Southern's Vocational-Technical Institute—a school that had its beginnings in evening classes where Southern Illinois farm boys came to learn to fix radios and coal miners to weld.

Now young people come to VTI from all over the United States and overseas, and its graduates are involved in moon launches, repairing the environment, constructing dams, and dozens of other pursuits.

VTI started as the only university-connected technical school in the state, and it's the relationship with SIU that has helped it to grow from a little trade school to a model institution that's helped to guide similar efforts in other states and has markedly stimulated development of such training in Illinois' new junior colleges, its administrators say.

"By combining the resources available at SIU with close contact with business and industry to be able to anticipate technical manpower needs 10 to 20 years from now, we're well ahead of the game," declares Acting Dean Marvin P. Hill of the Division of Technical and Adult Education.

Students from Everywhere
VTI no longer caters solely to "Egypt"—students are currently enrolled from every county in Illinois but five, plus 18 other states and four foreign nations. Nearly a fourth of the 1,300 come from the Cook county area. Technical teachers from Uganda, Finland, Panama, Vietnam and Afghanistan have been trained at VTI.

The students are going for associate degrees, requiring two to three academic years of study. Oversee certificates courses like bookkeeping, cosmetology and welding have been phased out in recent years as VTI has been able to turn them over to the junior colleges.

It's a far cry from those first welding and radio repair and auto mechanics classes offered at VTI 20 years ago. There's hardly an area in which graduates are not now making their mark.

The "big three" auto manufacturers think so highly of VTI's automotive technology program that they have donated over $50,000 worth of equipment in the last couple of years, and then snap up graduates.

VTI data processing graduates help prepare the computerized bills sent out by power and telephone companies. Those billings operate through systems and equipment designed by engineering teams that include technicians who got their training in VTI's electronics technology. That's what the radio-TV course has become.

Your favorite magazine or your evening paper may be produced in a plant managed by VTI printing technology graduates on equipment which VTI tool and manufacturing design graduates helped design or build. The commercial artist who laid out those ads may have studied at VTI.

Build Dams, Highways
Technicians who got their training in VTI's highway and civil technology program were in the engineering teams that designed and constructed the Shelbyville Reservoir dam and the highway leading to it.

Go to your dentist to get some teeth pulled—the dental hygienist who takes your x-rays and the laboratory technician who makes your partial plate may well be VTI graduates. And if you go to the hospital, the licensed practical nurse who helps to care for you may have a VTI emblem on the wing of her cap. The physical therapy assistant who helps you regain the use of a crippled leg may have been trained at VTI—the medical secretary who keeps all your doctor's records straight may have acquired her skills and poise there. Commit a crime, and it's possible that the policeman who puts the collar on you, the prison guard who keeps you locked up, and the parole officer who handles your case could all have got their training in the VTI corrections and law enforcement program. The court reporter who took down every word at your trial might have learned to operate that 10-key machine in the legal secretarial program at VTI.

The draftsman who did the finished drawings on your house plans may be a VTI architectural technology graduate. And VTI has a new water resources technology program to train the people who are helping to clean up our polluted environment.

VTI's aviation technology program is in such demand that some students have waited as long as a year for an opening, and equipment donations from the aviation industry are counted in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

All that is what the "little trade school in the powder plant" has become in 21 years. It's still in the powder plant—the administration complex of World War II Illinois Ordnance Plant east of Carbondale—but the legislature has appropriated money for permanent buildings, with construction expected to start this year.

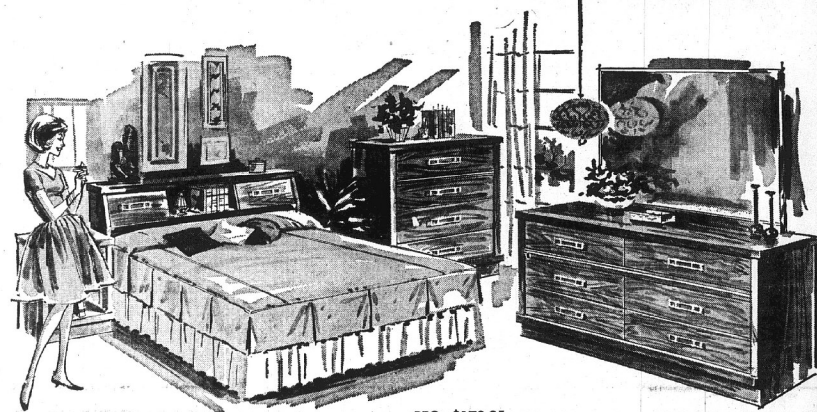

"We're going to be a leader in that, too," says Dean Hill. "Other schools are already studying the plans for facilities we've developed especially for technical instruction."

Wrong Driver Named
The driver of an auto in an accident last Friday night at Nameoki Road and St. Clair Avenue was Terry Kofahl, 2433 Sunbury Ave., rather than Judith Kofahl as previously reported.

Hit-Run Damage
The auto of Paulette Voloski, 1610 Seventh St., Madison, was struck by a hit and run motorist while parked on 12th Street near Madison Avenue at 7:30 p.m. Monday. The right rear of the auto was damaged.

New Effort to Develop Riverfront Opposite Gateway Arch; Some Public Funds Essential

Planning has become too much of a substitute for action in redevelopment of the East St. Louis riverfront, opposite the Gateway Arch, in the opinion of Robert E. Mendelson, a planner for the Regional and Urban Development Studies and services office of SIU-SW.

He is the author of a detailed study, "The East St. Louis Riverfront Charade." The monograph, currently being published, attempts to explain the numerous proposals for riverfront development and cut through "rhetoric and false promises so that future approaches to redevelopment might have firmer ties to reality," Mendelson says the constituency for change, including editors, professional city administrators and planners, have been historically powerless in this instance.

Successful redevelopment of the East St. Louis riverfront is virtually impossible, he believes. One of the major problems is ownership of the riverfront property.

Owned by Railroads "East St. Louis," he writes, "neither owns nor controls the land within its corporate limits which borders the Mississippi River." Most of the 400 acres which comprise the waterfront area is owned by railroads. The largest portion of this land, between the Veterans and MacArthur bridges, is held by the Terminal Railroad Association.

For the past 60 years, the study says, attempts to change ownership of this land have been unsuccessful.

Until recently, railroads opposed renewal proposals and refused to give up riverfront land in various locations in the country. While this attitude is changing, Mendelson says, there are no public funds to buy the land or subsidize the railroad company move to improved facilities.

Access, Financing Besides ownership of the land, there are two other key reasons, according to the study, why the riverfront has never been developed. First, the land is not accessible and secondly, all the planning which has been done has been without any promise or plan to finance implementation of the plans.

Outlined in the monograph are several proposals which have been formulated in the past decade, but which died because of a lack of highway into the area or lack of funds. In the report's summary, Mendelson suggests, "To insure riverfront development, public funds will be required for creation of jobs and the subsidization of housing."

"Publicly sponsored projects must act as substitutes for the lack of private investment. Time after time, planners described the feasibility of riverfront development and pointed out the fiscal and aesthetic benefits which could accrue. Yet it must be concluded that planning became a substitute for action."

Plan Funds Easier To Get "Public funds for planning were certainly easier to obtain than funds for operational programs, and local professionals were too desperate to reject planning money. There was always the hope that more funds would be forthcoming later."

"Often, the planning process seemed like a game of simulated resource allocation which was played by local planners and federal and state bureaucrats; all groups were afraid to admit that it was not the real thing."

As far back as 1937, State Attorney Louis P. Zerewick questioned the authority of the Terminal Railroad to withhold riverfront property from public use. His case was based on rulings by Congress declaring the Mississippi River a navigable stream, and he contended that Congress had held that private ownership can extend only to the high water mark adjacent to a navigable stream.

He also pointed out that rulings of the Supreme Court would not allow the state of Illinois to barter or sell public rights.

Terminal Railroad claimed that prior Supreme Court decisions had established the right of its ownership to the middle of the main channel of the Mississippi River, nearly 500 feet west of the shoreline. The case was dismissed when the circuit court adjourned for the summer of 1939.

But times have changed and Mendelson points out railroad business today has little of its past vibrance. Changing technology and mergers have diminished the use of riverfront land.

Most of the railroads are no longer functionally dependent on being located on the East St. Louis riverfront, he noted.

He contrasts increasing vacant riverfront property on the Illinois shoreline with the $400 million in new construction on the St. Louis riverfront and adjoining area.

There have been big ideas for the eastern shoreline. The study outlines history on several projects. None ever went beyond the planning stage.

Many, commercially planned ventures had been dropped when the proposed "Great River Road" scenic and access highway did not become an immediate reality. Other plans suffered from lack of financing.

Major redevelopments planned include a 6.5-mile scenic river road, which received wide acclaim from local, state and highway officials, but which was never funded or even placed high on highway priority lists.

A one-mile road, an alternate to the 6.5-mile proposal, was also never given any major priority in budget requests. One of the first major plans for the riverfront was moving the National Museum of Transportation to the riverfront area from its home in Kirkwood. After the city of East St. Louis completed rezoning to aid the museum, the Southwest Regional Port District received an option on 18 acres of land. After an internal reorganization of the museum board, the decision was made to keep the museum in Missouri.

Marina City Plan In 1962, Frain-Colton Contracting Co. became interested in promoting riverfront renewal at this time. It came up with two plans, one for a motor hotel over the river, "Gateway Marina City," and a larger plan to redevelop more of the riverfront.

Without the highway, the project stopped after planning. Two years later, under a federal grant, a consulting firm, Checchi & Co., was asked to examine tourism potential of the East St. Louis riverfront. A feasibility study included a museum, civic convention center and motor hotel. The study was done, but without the National Museum of Transportation and without the River Road, the Checchi report, too, went no further.

Shortly after the Checchi report was commissioned in 1965, a citizens' group organized. Known as PACE (Progress Action by Citizen Effort), the group spent several years, hired consultants and came up with major renovation plans for the riverfront and 60% of the entire city of East St. Louis.

Mendelson said, "At this date, virtually none of the PACE proposals have been implemented. Letters of commendation from federal and state agencies have not brought renewal funds to East St. Louis, nor have the railroads vacated the area."

Now, a new effort is being made spearheaded by the city's industrial development staff.

Mobile Meals to Use Two Volunteer Teams

Sixty hot meals were to be delivered this week from St. Elizabeth hospital by two teams of volunteers, with each team delivering six meals daily. The meals are carried from the hospital in portable ovens, placed on the back seat of the volunteer's car and maintained at a hot temperature until the lid is removed at the recipient's home.

Donations toward subsidizing those persons who are financially unable to pay for the meals in the Mobile Meals program have been received from the following groups: Ladies of the Coterie and the Alpha Xi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha International Sorority and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Henrich.

Volunteers who have catered the meals during recent weeks are: Rose Hogan, Peace Lutheran Church, Mrs. Bernice Thacker, St. John United Church, Mr. and Mrs. Vasil Kottroff and Mrs. Ethel Mae West, Niedringhaus Methodist Church, Mrs. Kathryn Parker and Mrs. Charlotte Lierman, First Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Betty Ray and Mrs. Lucia Allen, First Presbyterian Church.

All civic, religious and fraternal groups and interested individuals may call 878-8770 or 877-1184 for additional information.

Fisk Praised for Past Civil Defense Progress

Efforts of Harold T. Fisk, past civil defense director of Madison, have resulted in certification of Madison for the current 1971 fiscal year, William L. Eisele has advised Fisk. Eisele is coordinator of the Southwest Illinois Mutual Aid Area, Office of Emergency Preparedness.

"Both the Office of Civil Defense and the Illinois Civil Defense Agency have approved the progress made by your organization and your planned activity," Eisele said.

Appointed to the post in 1969 by the late Mayor Stephen Maers, Fisk received certification from Col. Donovan M. Vance, state director of the Illinois Civil Defense Agency, and from Col. Vance's successor, Val Oshel. They said he and the CD staff met all qualifications and requirements for recognition.

Fisk also was certified by Raynor F. Sturgis, director of the Illinois Department of General Services, Division of Materials Procurement, Federal Second place went to tenor Tom Collins, St. Louis.

Third place winner was soprano Linda Hodge, a music major at SIU's Carbondale campus. A student of former Met singer Marjorie Lawrence, Miss Hodge is from Belleville.

The three winners will compete in the regional finals in Chicago Feb. 12. The Chicago winner will enter the national semi-finals in New York in March.

Another SIU-SW voice major, Sheila Gale of Granite City, received honorable mention in the district competition, which included 16 contestants.

Special Features...

Newly formulated long life positive plate material delivers dependable power during long life span of DC-250.

Delco Grids resist damage from overcharge to further extend the life span of DC-250. This grid alloy assures greater reliability and dependability.

Terminal double sealed by ring of epoxy cement at the base of the posts and by welding to a lead bushing molded into the hard rubber cap cover. Double seal provides added protection against electrolyte leakage and terminal damage.

Unlabeled case and cover assembly. Covers are bonded to the hard rubber case with permanent epoxy cement to protect plates and separators from vibration damage and to prevent electrolyte leaks.

Protective plastic baffles installed above separators in each cell to guard against damage from hydrometers or filling equipment.

Splash-proof high-impact vent caps reduce electrolyte loss and resist breakage.

Thermo-Rigid hard rubber case resists damage from road shock and heat distortion. PLUS... the famous Delco Dry Charge process — you get all the power you pay for.

PVC Separators—Pure microporous polyvinyl chloride separators are carefully processed under controlled conditions. This results in longer cranking in cold weather.

Simply say "Delco DC-250" for the fleet-designed battery that adds extra life to extra duty... the battery that is the result of intensive engineering and exhaustive field and laboratory testing... the longer service-life battery with greater resistance to vibration damage and superior performance in deep cycling operations.

Delco engineers were directed to "Build the best battery possible, based on what fleet operators have told us they need!" The result of that order... the Delco DC-250 High Duty Battery.

Elect Credit Union Directors

The GCAD Credit Union held its 23rd annual meeting at the Officers' Club, Granite City Army Depot, this week, and elected directors for the 1971 year.
They are Elmer Gene Ross, Sidney I. Strohede, C. Wayne Banks and Raymond M. Hogan of Granite City; James R. Pryse, Edward J. Felix, Paul J. Buscher and O. C. Carnes of St. Louis; James J. Sartoris and George D. Langdon of Troy; Mary Foris of East St. Louis, and Robert B. Murray of Edwardsville.
Members present were informed that the field of membership has been extended to include county residents as far south as Chester and is restricted to employees of any Federal Agency working or residing in these counties. The GCAD Credit Union will continue its operations in its present location under the expanded by-laws.

Congressmen Told Farm Bill to Restrict Markets

Income of Illinois farmers is seriously threatened by proposed legislation in the Congress which would damage or destroy Illinois' farm markets abroad.
The point was made in Washington by Harold B. Steele, Illinois Agricultural Association president, as he carried out his organization's fight for farm income to Congress. Steele made his remarks on the proposed legislation in the Capitol building.
Steele told the Congressmen: "The trade bill which was introduced on Jan. 21 is designed to restrict shipments of foreign leather goods, textiles, and other items into the United States."
"Illinois is by far the leading agricultural export state and, therefore, Illinois farmers stand to suffer most from lost foreign markets."
"Illinois farmers now sell some 675 million dollars worth of their production to foreign markets each year. Foreign buyers take nearly a third of Illinois' feed grain sales and about half of our soybeans. And so, our foreign markets represent a large part of our total market."
"If the Congress takes action to restrict sales of goods from other countries to the United States, it's obvious that those countries would take counter actions to protect their own interests, and the result would be that the most from the legislation are generally the best customers for Illinois farm production."

License Plate Deadline Only Ten Days Away

Only 1.5 million Illinois motorists have yet to buy their 1971 license plates with the deadline for having them mounted on the vehicles now less than ten days away.
The deadline for having the plates on the vehicles, not merely applied for, is midnight, Feb. 15. Registration for 1971 now totals approximately $28 million, and it is estimated that it should be 4.3 million by the deadline. The present total is about 90,000 below last year's figure at the same time.
Additional working hours are scheduled at Secretary of State's office over-the-counter outlets for sale of plates in Springfield and Chicago, Lewis pointed out. These outlets will be open all day on three days when they would normally be closed: Saturday, Feb. 6; Saturday, Feb. 13 and Monday, Feb. 15.
In Springfield the over-the-counter outlets are in the Central building, where the hours are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and at Ninth Street and South Grand avenue, where the hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.
At this time, no assurance can be given that plates applied for by mail will be delivered by the deadline because of the time required for processing applications. The fact that license plates are third class mail, Secretary Lewis said.

Job Experience Program Expanded for HS Students

Under the expanded program, a total of ten students have been assigned—five as unit clerks, two in the operating room, and one each in dietary, housekeeping and maintenance.
Granite City High School students participating in the work experience program spend three hours a day at the hospital for one semester, and receive one credit for each semester. Upon receiving a diploma, has branched out to include dietary unit clerks and operating room technicians.
Ted Ellerman, St. Elizabeth Hospital assistant administrator, said initially the hospital had a student in housekeeping and in the maintenance departments.

Increased Funds Alloted School Lunch Programs

The State of Illinois is receiving nearly $26.2 million in Federal funds to help provide nutritional meals for the children of this state during fiscal year 1971 (July 1, 1970 through June 30, 1971), according to Dennis M. Doyle, Midwest regional director of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS).

Illinois ranks eighth among all states and territories in the amount of money received to conduct the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, Special Milk & Special Food Services Programs—all Child Nutrition Programs of FNS.

Much of the financial aid for Illinois is being used to provide free or reduced price meals to especially needy children. More than 45 percent, or $11,852,000 of Illinois' allocated funds is earmarked for this purpose.

The rest of the aid, supplemented by monies from Illinois State and local governments, is being used in conducting, improving and establishing the child nutrition programs. Nearly $6.5 million has been allocated for the school lunch program. The School Breakfast Program has a budget of $319,000.

Over $626,000 is being used to

Sen. Percy Sponsors Bill For Lincoln Historic Site

Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) has introduced a bill to establish the Lincoln Home National Historic Site in Springfield, Ill. A similar bill is being offered in the House of Representatives by Rep. Paul Findley. Co-sponsors of the bill are Sen. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Senators Gordon Allott and Mark Hatfield who are Lincoln scholars.

"The home of Abraham Lincoln should be a place which will inspire appreciation of a great man and a great president and understanding of the environment in which he grew to greatness," Percy said.

"Over 600,000 people a year come to visit this historic site and steps must be taken to preserve it in a close to its original form as possible. The proposed historic site in Springfield would preserve for the American public the home where Abraham Lincoln lived from 1844 to 1860 when he went to Washington to become president. It is the only home he ever owned," the Senator said.

The Department of Interior has proposed a master plan for developing the Lincoln Home site. This plan proposes that the historic scene in the immediate home vicinity be re-created, circa 1860, through restoration and partial reconstruction of period buildings and streets and for the removal of more recent structures.

"I am confident that the Senate and the House will consider this piece of legislation and approve it wholeheartedly."

Interest Rates Cut on Loans To Veterans

The latest reduction in interest rates on home loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration will save a veteran or serviceman more than $3,000 on the average new home loan over a 30-year financing period.

John B. Naser, director of the Illinois VA regional office in Chicago, commenting on the reduction from 8 to 7.5 per cent approved this month by Housing and Urban Development and VA, said the estimated saving is based on the $24,440 average loan on a new home.

Computed at 34 cents per $1,000, monthly savings on mortgage notes would be $8.43, or $3,035 over a 30-year period. The VA regional office director noted that the average loan on an existing home is $19,400, which works out to a monthly saving of $6.71 at the 7.5 per cent interest rate. The veteran or serviceman would save $2,416 over a 30-year financing period.

Guarantee Loan
VA guarantees 60 per cent up to a maximum of $12,500, whichever is less, of home loans made to veterans and servicemen.

VA's loan program covers veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict who have served at least 90 days of active duty, as well as those who served at least 181 days after Jan. 31, 1955, provided they have not previously used their loan entitlement.

Veterans discharged for a service-connected disability and widows of eligible veterans are also entitled to GI loans, according to Naser.

Rock Breaks Window

A rock was thrown through a plate glass window of the Road Runner building, 2200 Edison Ave. during the night. It was reported at 3:20 p.m. Monday.

Raise Car Allowances For Disabled Veterans

About 52,000 severely disabled veterans and servicemen will benefit from a new law (P.L. 91-666) increasing allowances from $1,600 to $2,800 for the purchase of specially equipped automobiles.

The law also authorizes VA to provide adaptive devices to enable operation of the vehicles, and to repair and replace such equipment. For the first time in the auto grant program, severely disabled servicemen on active duty are eligible. Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson pointed out.

He said the total program will cost about $17.5 million the first year. He also noted the $1,600 allowance for automobiles and conveyances had been in effect since 1946, and was increased to $2,800 when the President signed the Disabled Veterans' and Servicemen's Automobile Assistance Act on Jan. 11.

It was explained that 48,900 veterans who have already received the $1,600 car allowance are not eligible for additional funds under this purpose. However, VA is now authorized to provide, replace or repair equipment for their cars.

Veterans who have lost, or lost of the use of, one or more hands or feet, or suffered a loss of vision to a prescribed degree as a result of service since Jan. 31, 1955, are eligible for the new law's benefits. Veterans with similar losses as a direct result of the Korean Conflict or World War II are also covered.

Truck, Auto Collide

A tractor-trailer driven by George Peterson, Cahokia, collided with the auto of Hazel A. Jones, 208 E. 28th St., at Harris and McCambridge avenues in Madison at 4 p.m. Monday.

Peterson told police his vehicle was westbound on Harris and he was temporarily blinded by the sun. The Jones car was northbound on McCambridge.

Steel Imports in 1970 Hit 13.3 Million Tons

The declared value of steel imports jumped 12.9 percent in 1970—even though foreign producers shipped 670,000 tons less into the U.S. market than they did in 1969.

Preliminary Department of Commerce data supplied to American Iron and Steel Institute show the declared value of steel imported during the full 12 months of 1970 was $1,967,000,000. This, according to IASI, was $225,000,000 more than the comparable figure for 1969—despite a drop of nearly five percent in total steel import tonnage.

Imports reached 13,364,000 tons for the full year of 1970. More than 3,000,000 tons of this foreign steel entered the U.S. in the last two months of the year. December's imports of 1,347,000 tons followed the arrival of 1,714,000 tons of steel from foreign steelmakers during November.

Domestic producers of stainless, alloy and other specialty steel products continued to feel strong import pressure during the year. These products constituted only 3.9 percent of 1970's steel import tonnage—but accounted for 13.1 percent of total declared steel import value.

U.S. producers shipped 7,053,000 tons of steel abroad during 1970. However, exports slipped sharply toward the end of the year. In December, they totaled only 299,000 tons—the lowest one-month figure since February, 1969.

Explosive Dealers Must be Licensed

After Feb. 12, any person or firm engaging in the business of manufacturing, importing or dealing in explosives is required to be licensed under the Explosives Control Act of 1970, William A. Collawn, assistant regional commissioner of Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms, International Revenue Service for Midwest Region, said today.

Mr. Collawn also pointed out that any person who intends to acquire explosives from a licensee in a state other than his state of residence, or from a foreign country, or who intends to transport explosives in interstate or foreign commerce, must have a Federal permit after Feb. 12.

All those businesses which were engaged in the manufacturing, importing or dealing in explosive materials on or before Oct. 15, 1970, will be allowed to continue in the business after Feb. 17, provided they make application for the new license by that date.

To apply for a license, Mr. Collawn said, explosives manufacturers, importers and dealers must file a Form 4705, in duplicate. Interstate users of explosives should apply for a permit by filing Form 4707, in duplicate.
